Smiles and Tears As First Troops Leave Victoria

Bound for "somewhere in France," the Princess Pats left Victoria today as a great throng crowding the Causeway and the docks and wished them Godspeed.

As mothers and wives and sweethearts cried quietly, the men in khaki laughed and joked and promised to bring home Hitler. Then they sang "Tipperary" and "Pack Up Your Troubles," while killed pipers played martial Scottish music.

With the official prayers and hopes of British Columbia, from the lips of Premier T. D. Pattullo, the men, in their new war garb, came into town over the Johnson Street bridge and down Government Street, where small knots of people waited on every corner, clapped and cheered and sang out "Good-bye. Best of luck."

For the most part the crowds were silent, loathe to believe the men could again be marching again to war. Women stood here and there with red eyes.

"The people of British Columbia have not the slightest doubt of your determination to see this thing through," Premier Pattullo said to the men. "Now is not the time to indulge in lamentable eventualities, but we all realize that when you do come back many of us will not be here, for we are not getting any younger."

"But there is no doubt of your unflinching determination, not only for ourselves but for all nations, even Germany, so that people will be in a position to live in peace, amity and friendship with other peoples."

"I hope the Almighty will preserve you, give you courage and send you home safely."

Two radios were presented to the troops by Pro Patria and Army and Navy Veterans' branches of the Canadian Legion by Len Woodhouse and Brigadier Sutherland-Brown, presidents of each branch.

"We are not sorry for you, not a bit," said Brigadier Brown. "We are only sorry for ourselves because we are left out."

The brigadier said it was largely through his efforts that the men were going, as all his life he had worked for a strong permanent force.

"I know you will do your stuff," he said.

Mr. Woodhouse wished the men Godspeed and a safe return.

Major J. N. Edgar, commanding officer, thanked the veterans for their gifts and good wishes.

As they marched through Esquimalt, housewives ran to their front doors and waved and cheered. Children on their way home from school joined.

When the men fell out to bid good-bye to relatives and friends the scenes were touching. The women were brave soldiers, too, and hid their feelings and sent their menfolk off with smiles, forced smiles perhaps, but still smiles and good wishes.

"My man went last time, and didn't come back, and now my youngest is gone," sobbed one woman.

"Is this 1939 or is it still 1914?" asked a veteran of the last war. "I would never believe it possible if I didn't see it."

"It's funny how a thing like this makes us old soldiers itch to get going," said another.

But the crowd was not hilarious, although they sang and cheered; rather were they sorry men had to leave for war again and hoped and prayed it might be all over before they were sent to France.

'Ginsberg' Not To Be Kingsley

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—County Judge A. A. Ingram in a decision handed down this afternoon declined an application by Dr. Abraham Gerald Ginsberg to change his surname to "Kingsley."

The application stated the change was requested for convenience in the practice of his profession, but the judge said "Dr. Ginsberg desires to use the name 'Kingsley' for the purpose of concealing from any patients who might object to treatment by a Jewish doctor, the fact that he is Jewish. I believe the act is intended to prevent even such a minor deception."

The act referred to is an amended provincial statute which tightens the restrictions in regard to changing of names.

British Destroyer And 4 Other Craft Sunk

LONDON (AP)—The sinking of four British vessels—a destroyer and three merchant vessels and a Norwegian oil tanker were listed today as the latest casualties of sea warfare.

A freighter, a trawler and an unidentified third craft were the British merchant victims.

One of the British merchant ships was said to have gone down less than a mile from where the destroyer hit a mine. Presumably they were caught in the same mine field.

A second British merchantman, unidentified, was reported lost, but details were lacking.

NORWEGIAN LOSS

Neutrals, whose shipping has suffered more than any single power except Britain from German action, lost another ship when an unidentified Norwegian tanker was torpedoed. Thirty-three members of her crew were saved and 32 were reported dead or missing.

The Admiralty announced that a German mine sank the unidentified destroyer, first of her type lost by the navy since the war began. The freighter, the 8,003-ton Matra, also was believed to have been the victim of a mine. The trawler Creswell was reported torpedoed by a German submarine off the coast of Scotland. Six of her crew of 12 were missing.

Loss of these ships came on the heels of an admiralty announcement that British warships had destroyed the German steamships Mecklenburg, 7,892 tons, and Parana, 6,038 tons. The Matra went down in the North Sea last night after an explosion, presumably that of a mine. Two of her crew were killed and 22 injured.

The Admiralty did not identify the destroyer nor locate the sinking, which was believed to have occurred yesterday or the night before. One member of the crew was listed as dead, six others as missing and 15 injured.

More than 70 of the destroyer's crew were known to have been picked up and landed by tugs and drifters which hurried to the scene after the explosion. Tugs attempted to take the craft in tow, but she sank stern first. Most of the survivors were covered with oil.

The fatality announced by the Admiralty was W. G. Brown, boatswain.

Germany threatened a sharp offensive at sea today as shipping casualties mounted.

The Nazi press hinted—in terms strikingly similar to those used more than a month ago when Great Britain placed defensive guns on her merchantman—that U-boat commanders would fire without warning on armed merchant vessels.

The controlled German press called defensively armed vessels "pirates" and named 29 British and five French ships as being in that category. It told civilians they would travel on those ships at their own risk. The list included the Queen Mary, tied up at New York, and the Empress of Russia.

U-boat attacks have declined sharply in the last month, despite the earlier Nazi threat to sink defensively armed vessels on sight.

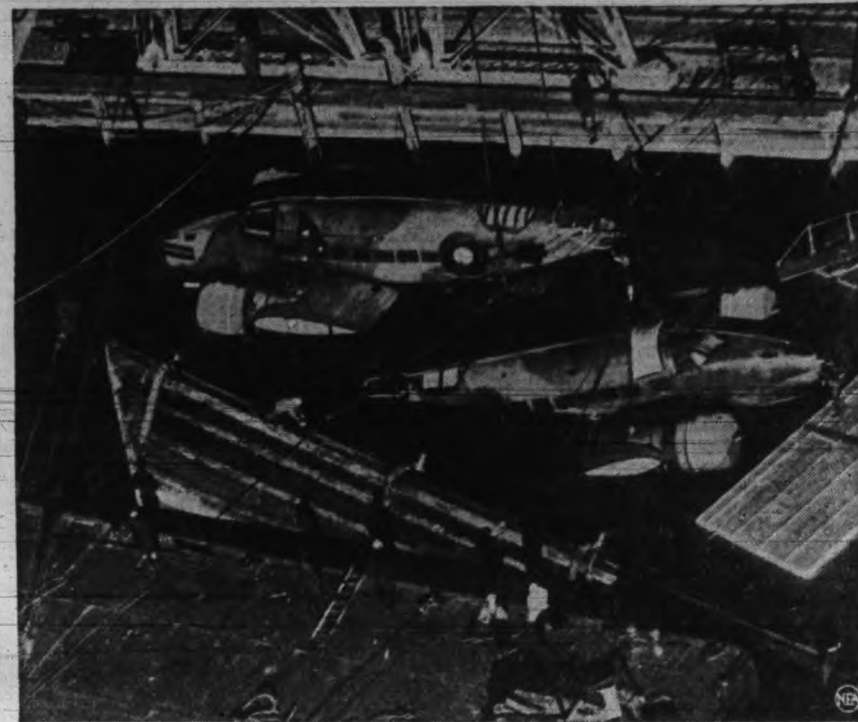

Observers, therefore, were inclined to take the latest Nazi press threats as just another salvo in the war of nerves. Besides, Berlin newspaper correspondents hinted, the government felt it had to give some reason for the absence of U-boat successes.

U-BOAT CREWS BALK

The Berlin correspondent of the New York Herald-Tribune said submarine crews at Hamburg had refused to go on raiding trips unless they were released from the necessity of coming to the surface before attacking. According to this report the British aerial anti-submarine patrol is so effective that U-boats are attacked almost as soon as they show themselves.

For this reason, the correspondent said, U-boat attacks had been transferred to such comparatively unpatrolled areas as the coast of Spain. Even there, however, they have to deal with convoying naval units.

The latest losses at sea lifted the toll to 120 vessels and the total known tonnage destroyed to 489,117. Great Britain has lost 65 ships, Germany 14, France 7 and neutral countries 34.

NAZIS REPLY 'NO' TO PEACE MOVE

By LOUIS LOCHNER

BERLIN (AP)—Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop today informed the Belgian and Netherlands envoys that Germany's reply to the joint mediation offer from the lowland nations would be a polite "No."

The formal reply to the offer made November 7 by the Queen of the Netherlands and the King of the Belgians will be sent to night to The Hague and Brussels with instructions to German envoys that it be presented tomorrow, informed sources said.

The note was said to be only a page and a half in length and was drafted by Von Ribbentrop, who informed the two small nations of its contents today.

Von Ribbentrop was said to have stated Germany's reply was based on answers already received by the two sovereigns from Britain and France, which he claimed rendered peace impossible at this time.

ANNENBERG'S RACE NEWS ENDING

CHICAGO (AP)—District

Attorney William J. Campbell announced this afternoon that counsel for M. L. Annenberg's racing news service had informed him that officials of the company had decided to dissolve the business.

Campbell said Weymouth Kirkland, attorney for the Annenberg race information empire, had told him officials of the Nationwide News Service Inc. had decided to "definitely and forever quit the business of providing race information over wires to gamblers and bookies."

Hammond Chaffetz of the law firm representing Nationwide News said the system would close its wires to betting rooms tomorrow.

"Counsel has stated that his clients will voluntarily cancel contracts with the A.T. and T. Company and the Western Union Telegraph Company," Campbell stated. "In addition, he declared his clients had expressed a wish to assist the United States government in preventing the dissemination by anyone of race information for illegal purposes."

"Dissolution of Nationwide News Service Inc. will affect not only every state in the union but the Dominion of Canada and Cuba," he said.

Von Blomberg And High Nazis Reported Arrested

LONDON (CP)—A Reuters News Agency dispatch from Copenhagen tonight said Field-Marshal Werner von Blomberg, former German war minister, and a number of high Nazis had been arrested.

Von Blomberg resigned from the German cabinet in February, 1938, when his marriage a month earlier to his secretary, 30 years his junior, met with the disapproval of his fellow officers in the army.

Last month reports were current that he and other officers supposedly partial to a Hohenzollern restoration had been arrested and interned in Landsberg fortress. These were subsequently officially denied in Berlin.

NEW ROUND-UP

LONDON—Hitler is carrying out a new purge, according to a report in the London Daily Herald, Labor paper.

The story says the Fuehrer's attention was attracted to monarchist demonstrations. After events in Potsdam, where the Kaiser had his palace, Hitler requested the former crown prince to remain at his home, "to avoid unpleasantness."

DEATH REPORTS

In the Herald's story appear facsimiles of reported newspaper death announcements of Prince Joachim Albrecht of Prussia and Count von Wedel.

When Hitler started to act on his suspicions, the former Hohenzollern princes sent a delegation which reminded the Fuehrer that 22 members of the former imperial family were serving with the colors and one of them, Prince Oscar, grandson of the former Kaiser, had been killed in action. They intimated they could not serve the government if the head of the house in Germany (the former Crown Prince) were treated as if he were under arrest.

Hitler then, according to the Herald's story, summoned the police president of Potsdam, Von Wedel, and called for a personal report of the 'monarchist plot,' but Von Wedel's report apparently was not satisfactory, as three days later his death was announced in German newspaper, which declared it was due to "grave illness."

Hitler, according to the report, ordered the secret police to search the homes of all the Hohenzollern princes, including Prince Joachim, who the next day died suddenly and unexpectedly.

Today, says the story, Hohenzollerns and all their friends are under suspicion, as well as members of other of Germany's minor former ruling houses.

GESTAPO MANOEUVRES

STOCKHOLM (CP-Havas)—The Swedish newspaper Social-Demokraten today said the Gestapo (German secret police) instigated rumors that Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria was dead in order to discourage south German monarchists fomenting anti-Nazi and anti-Russian sentiment in favor of south German separatism.

(The German news agency October 16 denied rumors that Prince Rupprecht had been killed fighting in Poland.)

The Social-Demokraten reported hundreds of persons have been arrested and members of leading families in Wurttemberg and Bavaria put under police surveillance in the Nazi drive against the separatist movement.

The Swedish newspaper published facsimiles of two manifestoes said to have been distributed in Bavaria. One urged Bavarians to lay down their arms and throw off the Prussian yoke. The other was addressed to Prince Rupprecht and declared that Bavaria does not want to fight for "the usurper, Adolf Hitler," but aspires to independence and the carrying on of Christian civilization.

Hush Publisher Sent Up for Trial

TORONTO (CP)—Richard Salr, publisher of the Toronto weekly Hush, was committed for trial today on a charge of defamatory libel. The complainant is Michael Bernard, Toronto hotel owner.

Bernard charges that an article published in the October 28 issue of Hush contravened section 334 of the Criminal Code.

Magistrate R. J. Browne said he would deal later with the question of bail.

Dull Day Aids
French Air Defences

By AXEL DE HOLSTEIN
Havas Staff Writer

PARIS (CP) — Anti-aircraft defences scanned lowering skies today to prevent a recurrence of German flights over French soil which made Monday the Reich's most active day in the air on the western front since the war began.

Land operations were at a minimum throughout yesterday and last night. This forenoon's communiqué of the French high command merely reported a "quiet night." The Reich air arm, however, yesterday sent reconnaissance expeditions over northeastern France, two of which penetrated to the region of Paris. The incident produced the first air raid casualties of the war in the French capital, when shell fragments from defence fire wounded three persons, including a woman and a three-year-old child.

Other enemy planes crossing the French lines in Lorraine were immediately framed in white shell bursts from anti-aircraft batteries and beat a hurried retreat over Belgian soil. In view of the extremely foggy day, it was not believed they succeeded in making any important observations.

The German air activity reflected anxiousness to examine movements on railways radiating from Paris.

It was revealed that Premier Daladier, with Air Minister Guy La Chambre, spent the weekend visiting French aviation units at the front, presenting decorations for special feats. The squadron which last Thursday shot down nine German planes, though the French machines were outnumbered 27 to nine, was among them.

More Russian Troops Expected
On Finns' Border

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet

Russia, hoping the economic strain of counter-mobilization may bring Finland to terms, probably will continue massing troops along the Finnish border, diplomatic observers said today.

(Finland has been preparing for five weeks against a showdown with Russia, with approximately 300,000 of the 3,067,000 population has been mobilized for defence.)

Belief was held here that the Finnish diplomatic mission, which departed for Helsinki last night after resisting Soviet demands for certain territorial concessions, would not return.

The Finns themselves, silent and serious as they boarded a train, indicated that resumption of the negotiations was up to their government. The delegation is due in Helsinki tomorrow.

The delegation, which twice before during the month-long negotiations returned to Helsinki, had had only indirect contact with the Kremlin for the past five days.

Nuffield Radios
For Troops in Field

LONDON (CP) — Lord Nuffield, automobile manufacturer and philanthropist, has supplied his £1,500,000 ($6,575,000) gift to buy recreational equipment for men in the military services by another £50,000, it was learned today.

The original gift was in the form of 1,000,000 ordinary shares of Lord Nuffield's firm, Morris Motors Limited. The interest is to be used for the recreational fund as it is collected.

The latest gift in cash is to enable the military services to begin building up their recreational facilities at once without waiting for the first dividends from the endowment fund. It was offered last Thursday in a letter from Lord Nuffield to War Secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha.

Lord Nuffield stipulated that at least £15,000 be used immediately to buy radio sets for the British expeditionary force.

"The outbreak of war," he said in his letter, "has intensified a need which the trust was created to serve. Distributions which the trustees have already made have been drawn from repayable advances made by myself. In order to free the trust from the liability it thus incurred in its early stages and enable it to make further immediate distributions without involving added borrowing, I have decided to increase my gift by donating to the trustees forthwith the additional amount of £50,000."

BREAK IN LONELINESS

The War Secretary replied: "The advances which you have made ahead of due dividend dates have enabled, among other things, wireless sets to be provided for many serving in our stations, relieving the loneliness of those whose vigilance is protecting us at this time."

"Now your kindness is turned toward those in France, and you have wished that part of your new gift should be devoted to wireless sets for the forces in France. Thus they will be able to listen to the world outside and keep in close contact with our own country. They will, from the front, hear programs of news and entertainment and be able in their leisure moments to enjoy imagining themselves still before their own firesides."

Percy E. George of Victoria is first vice-president, and David Brankin, Surrey, Municipality, second vice-president. Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Minister of Education, was again named honorary president, and George Grant of Burnaby Municipality returned as secretary-treasurer.

Executive members chosen were Mrs. Janet P. Leeming of Duncan; David Chapman, Kelowna, B.C.; B. A. Edwards, Kamloops, B.C.; and Leslie Crawford, Nelson, B.C.

Europe's Small Countries Make Firmer Stand

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK — The many small countries of Europe, taking courage from each other, are sticking out their chests. Bent on maintaining their neutrality, they are showing a sturdy determination not to knuckle under further in the matter of their independence and territorial integrity.

The Finns' daring rejection of Russian territorial demands, the vigorous preparations of Holland and Belgium to defend their neutrality against aggression if necessary, the reported new Balkan agreement tending towards defensive co-operation under Italian sponsorship—all these developments mark a hardening of the political temper of the continent.

It is significant, as showing the trend of affairs, that in all instances this attitude is the outgrowth of fancied or real dangers emanating from Germany, Comrade Russia or both. The Anglo-French Allies haven't inspired fear among the lesser states.

GAIN FOR ALLIES

Thus a large number of little nations in southeastern and western Europe, while not openly hostile to Germany, are decidedly on the defensive against the Reich.

This represents what seems from this distance to be a moral gain for the Allies.

BOSTON (AP) — Departure of the North Star, leadoff ship of the United States government's land-claiming, exploration expedition to the Antarctic, today was postponed until tomorrow, shortly after the expedition's huge snowmobile had been stowed safely aboard.

BOSTON (AP) — Like a motorist parking his car in a cramped space, Dr. Thomas P. Gerdner, leader of the United States Antarctic expedition's immense snowmobile aboard the motorship North Star today in preparation for the departure of the ship this afternoon for the South Polar region.

A platform had been laid on upright oil drums stored on the forward deck of the North Star and, when the tide had raised the platform to a position level with the army base dock, the huge snow-cruiser was edged carefully aboard, backed off to improve its position, and driven on again. A navy tug braced the 1,450-ton North Star against the dock.

When finally parked, the great vehicle's forward end protruded about two feet over the port rail, with its wheels 10 feet from the edge of the dock.

Ten feet of the cruiser's rear end was sliced off with acetylene torches so the ponderous machine could be stowed on deck and fastened securely. The severed part will be re-welded in the Antarctic, where the snowmobile is to be used as an igloo on wheels.

Capone's Name Heard
As Slayers Hunted

CHICAGO (AP) — The discovery of a letter relating that Al Capone voiced threats in Alcatraz prison against Edward J. O'Hare, slain president of Sportsman's Park Race Track, gave an unexpected turn today to the search for the slayers of the turfman.

Bearing the signature "George," the letter was found in a book in O'Hare's secret north side apartment. The envelope carried a St. Louis postmark dated October 6, 1937.

The letter had been sent from one friend of O'Hare to another. The writer said he had been told of the threats by two former inmates of Alcatraz prison and urged the recipient to warn O'Hare.

"You know," the letter said in part, "O'Hare and him had many arguments and disputes over them tracks. I think the sore spot is something in connection with Sportsman's Park."

The Capone group was the original owners of Sportsman's Park. At one time O'Hare managed a Chicago dog track in which Capone had an interest.

Meanwhile investigators held Peter Szent, a painter, in protective custody after he gave them the first eye-witness account of the slaying. Szent said he saw O'Hare killed by shotgun blasts fired by one of two men in a car that overtook the turfman's automobile on Ogden Avenue last Wednesday.

LETTER IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police found a letter today in the pocket of a former bodyguard of Edward J. O'Hare, slain Chicago sportsman, saying "certain people know who was driving the car when they got Eddie."

The man, Russell Stoddard, 21, was stabbed superficially last night on a downtown street by one of two men who accosted him with the greeting "Rusty." Treated for his wounds and questioned for two hours, he collapsed and was taken to a hospital in a coma.

He regained consciousness several hours later, but Detective Lieutenant Leray Sanderson announced he would not be questioned further except at the request of Chicago police. The latter said they had no record of Stoddard, whose aliases Sanderson listed as Albert Stoddard and Russell Scroggins.

The detective furnished mid-west authorities with the name of a Cicero, Ill., man found scrawled on the envelope containing the letter. He said the one-time chauffeur apparently had been here for the past month. O'Hare was shot to death in gangland fashion last Wednesday.

Australian Given Oath in Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Hon. J. V. Fairbairn, former Australian

Minister of Civil Aviation, who is in Ottawa in connection with Empire air training plans, today was sworn in at Government House here as Minister of State for Air, as a result of the reshuffle of the Australian government.

It is believed to be the first time in history a minister of one Dominion has taken the oath of office while in another Dominion. A cable from the Governor-General of Australia to the Governor-General of Canada yesterday requested that Mr. Fairbairn be sworn in. He was already a privy councillor in Australia.

The oath was administered by Sir Lyman Duff, Chief Justice of Canada, in the presence of Lord Tweedsmuir, Mr. Fairbairn arrived in Ottawa October 31, and has since been engaged with British, Canadian and New Zealand air officials in mapping a plan by which aviators from the sister Dominions and the United Kingdom may receive their advanced training in Canada.

The changes in the Australian cabinet were announced by Prime Minister Robert Menzies on November 11.

Mr. Fairbairn said the swearing-in ceremony here was a striking proof of the unity of the British Commonwealth of Nations when the minister of the Dominion could take the oath of office in a sister Dominion half way around the world.

When he arrived here as head of the Australian air mission two weeks ago Mr. Fairbairn was, and had been for some years, minister for civil aviation, assistant defence minister and vice-president of the executive council.

Under the new cabinet arrangements Mr. Fairbairn becomes minister of the air branch of the defence forces. Prime Minister Menzies, as minister of co-ordination, will supervise the activities of the war, air and navy department each with a separate ministry.

Until Mr. Fairbairn returns to Australia Mr. Menzies will administer the air department.

Soviet Press Scores

MOSCOW (AP) — Russian newspapers today attacked the United States, Great Britain and France and for the first time in recent months criticized Turkey.

A cartoon in the Moscow Bolshevik pictured United States shipowners as violating neutrality legislation by registering ships in foreign neutral countries such as Cuba, Panama and Chile to trade with Britain and France.

The army newspaper Red Star said Britain and France, encouraged by their pact with Turkey and United States repeal of the arms embargo, were seeking to organize a Balkan block under their domination and also gain control of the Dardanelles.

An article in Pravda, Communist Party newspaper, accused the Turkish Ankara Times of trying to "split" Germany and the U.S.S.R. Pravda denounced as lies reports attributed to the Ankara paper that Russia and Germany "are preparing a division of India" and that "Russia is going to let Germany occupy the Balkans."

BERLIN (AP) — "Despite unfavorable weather, a German flying squadron undertook an attack on the Shetland Islands" (yesterday), said a communiqué from the German high command today. "In the encounter two flying boats were destroyed. A probable hit on an English cruiser could not with certainty be observed. All our own planes returned unharmed."

British spokesman said the Shetland Islands suffered no damage except a few shattered windows. The communiqué reported quiet on the western front.

Bigger Demands For Pension Fund

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia schoolteachers "cannot hope to operate an actuarially sound pension scheme from their contributions unless they are prepared to pay 10 per cent of their salaries," according to Norman Baker of Victoria, superannuation commissioner for the province.

"The legislators who approved the Teachers' Pension Act had no idea of the mechanics of a pension fund," the commissioner told the annual convention of British Columbia School Trustees' Association here.

"In fact, I think we are fortunate in learning the impracticability of the scheme in the first 10 years of operation."

(The Teachers' Pension Act calls for an annual provincial government contribution of $25,000, while teachers paid about $200,000 yearly, exclusive of a 4 per cent donation to a reserve fund, levied on each teacher during his first year of employment. Municipalities do not contribute to the scheme.)

"The matter is serious," Commissioner Baker continued. "The teachers employed today are carrying those who have been retired. When the fund is rehabilitated a teacher who has served 40 years will only receive $50 a month as service pension, with what he has himself contributed to the reserve."

"You have over 300 teachers retired on pension. If the government makes no further contribution, and the trustees do not help, there is only one thing to do with the pension fund—wind it up. Pension will have to be stopped. I can see no alternative."

Major J. N. Burnett of Vancouver, past president of the federation and chairman of the pension committee, said part of the blame for the state of the fund was due to trustees forcing teachers into retirement at the age of 65 years for men and 60 years for women.

"It is certainly a fact that a great many of our boards of trustees loaded it into the pension funds," he said.

FOR CANADIANS

OTTAWA (CP) — Plans to give the public more details of Canada's war effort will be formulated this week by the subcommittee of the cabinet on public information, headed by Labor Minister Norman McLaughlin, the Canadian Press has learned.

Suggestions and pleas to the government to give the people a better idea of how the country's war effort is being stepped up have been pouring in on the committee, and its members are agreed something more should be done.

The committee will decide, it is learned, whether to have one man or group of men supervise all publicity, or to develop publicity machinery presently functioning in each department to greater effectiveness, each department operating on its own.

Toronto Mayor Gives Alderman Warning

TORONTO (CP)—Alderman D. A. Balfour yesterday was granted the right to withdraw his motion which sought to strip Alderman Stewart Smith, a Communist, of his right to sit as a member of the works committee of the City Council.

Alderman Smith, against whom Alderman Balfour has campaigned since the outbreak of war, was the only member of the council who attempted to block the withdrawal motion. He defended his right to sit on civic committees and his repeated efforts to introduce his opinions on "capitalistic war" were halted by Mayor Ralph Day.

"I wish to merely state that my views with respect to the war are quite in line with my status as a member of the committee of works of this council," Alderman Smith persisted.

"There is no suggestion of war in the motion at all," countered the Mayor.

"The present economic situation results in war and unemployment and other evils," continued Alderman Smith, "and as long as I am on the council I will attempt to bring about amelioration of the conditions brought about by the capitalist system. . . . I'm opposed to capitalist war."

"I'll warn you no more," interjected Mayor Day. "We want no more statements of Communist propaganda."

Lois Weber, Movie Director, Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lois Weber, 56, one of Hollywood's few women film directors, died last night after a long illness.

Miss Weber helped advance Anita Stewart, Billie Dove and Claire Windsor to stardom. She made Mildred Harris, first wife of Charles Chaplin, a star in "Borrowed Clothes" and "Husbands Only."

She was writing, directing and producing four pictures a year then, with an allowance of $50,000 a picture—she got half the net profits. She rented mansions for lavish interior scenes instead of building expensive sets.

Miss Weber, born in Pennsylvania and educated in Pittsburgh, began her career as a singer and concert pianist. Then she turned to writing. One of her plays, "The Drunkard," was revived and has had a six-year run here.

LIBERTY FOR ALL GOAL OF CANADA

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada is at war to protect human liberties and to assist in preventing Nazi domination—overwhelming civilization, says Conservative Leader Manion.

In a speech on "Why We Are at War," carried over the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's national network last night, he declared all that Canada and the other democracies prize in civil and religious freedom is threatened by the ambition of Hitler to dominate the world.

"Unless the democratic nations of the world succeed at the present time in stopping the advance of international gangsterism, the danger is that our whole civilization will be overwhelmed, engulfing at the same time the religious beliefs of us all," Dr. Manion declared.

"The reason Britain and France declared war on Germany was because they realized, after repeated and sincere attempts to avoid war, that Hitler had become obsessed with a determination not only to dominate Europe but to dominate the world."

Canada has been in the fight since the beginning primarily because she is part of the British Empire, he continued. Neutrality for this Dominion now was impossible for unless Canada declared her independence, an enemy of Britain would consider Canada at war and, if victorious, would take possession of this country.

"We must not forget that Canada would be the richest prize on the face of the globe for any congested country to win," he said. "Imagine the joy of Hitler could he possess such a country as ours to which to send his excess population."

The Conservative leader cautioned against assuming that the Atlantic Ocean made Canada invulnerable to attack. If Britain and France were defeated, Canada would be quite vulnerable, he said.

Would Sell Pit Props

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP)—The possibility of producing mine pit props in this central British Columbia district for export to Great Britain is being investigated by Olof Hanson, Liberal member of Parliament for Skeena riding.

Mr. Hanson today was making a tour of mills along the Canadian National Railway line east of here. He expects to return to his home at Smithers, B.C., Thursday.

New Type Donations

LANSING, Mich. (CP)—Governor Luren Dickinson thinks cigarette smokers and liquor drinkers should help Michigan solve its recurrent welfare finance crisis through voluntary money contributions for a two-week period. He asks that residents reduce their luxury expenses in the last week of November and the first week of December and contribute the savings to local or state welfare funds.

Italy Turning Towards Britain, Events Show

By NORMAN MacLEOD

OTTAWA—In the close contact which the federal government is maintaining these days with the trend of European affairs, the most important news of the moment consists in assurances coming through diplomatic channels of Italy's fundamental sympathy for the Allied cause. These assurances are accompanied by emphatic assertions that the Italian nation, under no circumstances, will be found on the side of Germany in the present conflict, and that the Rome-Berlin axis was basically an economic arrangement and definitely not a military alliance.

The information conveyed through diplomatic circles in the government here is to the effect that the Italian people have largely lost interest in closer relations with Germany since Herr Hitler made his recent bargain with comrade Stalin.

These assurances have been of an authentic character. And they have been accompanied by concrete reasons and supported by citations from the independent press of Europe.

The Rome-Berlin "axis," it is pointed out, derived, largely, from the questions of "sanctions" at the time of the Ethiopian affair. It was a friendly alliance but one clearly stopping short of making common cause in the war. Immediately the war broke out, Italy declared her neutrality and intends to keep it. If there is any deviation from that course it would more likely be towards the Allies than Germany.

DEFINITE INDICATIONS

In the information which has come here reference is made to other factors suggestive of Anglo-Italian friendship. (1) The new trade pact ensures Italy getting raw materials from Great Britain. (2) There have been no sinking of ships or other trouble in the Mediterranean since the war broke out. (3) The British government is sending a consular general in place of a minister to Albania which is construed to mean more attention to trade developments and less to diplomatic formalities. The Balkan bloc which Mussolini is endeavoring to form is calculated to resist Germany and Russia though not inconsistent with Italian neutrality.

It is stated that "at no time in the last five years" have Anglo-Italian relations been better than now. In that period critical episodes have arisen. Mussolini's popularity and also the popularity of the prevailing form of government are asserted and Italians are pictured as sensitive on these points; but the people don't want war and for reasons stated—some old and some new—Italian sympathy is more with the Allies than with Germany. Incidentally Italy expects to play a big part in European reconstruction after the war and the devastation it will cause.

Argentina Buys Canadian Potatoes

OTTAWA (CP)—Wartime restrictions in Europe are opening up new trade to Canada in the British West Indies and South America, the trade and commerce department states.

Disturbed over source of its supply of seed potatoes, Argentina has increased its purchases in Canada, and although only one shipment has gone to the South American republic, it represented the entire 4,700-ton cargo of a freighter, says the department.

A shipment of 1,000 tons of Canadian flour, arranged by the department, contributed materially to remedying of a flour shortage in Jamaica.

Less Lumber for Germany

BELGRADE (CP-Havas)—Jugoslav lumber exports to Germany have been suspended until the Reich is ready to pay a higher price, the newspaper Politika reports. The naval blockade of Germany has led to rising prices throughout Europe, the newspaper says, and wood can be sold for higher prices outside Germany.

The paper states prices set under an earlier German-Jugoslav trade agreement do not correspond to the present situation.

Teacher Exchange Ends

SASKATOON (CP)—The exchange of teachers between different parts of the British Empire, which has been carried on successfully for a considerable time now, will be suspended for the duration of the war, according to C. A. Oulton, superintendent of schools for Saskatoon.

BLOCKADE AX CUTS HALF OF GERMAN IMPORTS—Germany enters her third month of war with 50 per cent of her $1,300,000,000 import trade cut off by British contraband blockade across the North Sea. Figures show imports for 1937 from European and world nations. The white boxes show the imports from sources now cut off by the British blockade. Figures in black boxes are from countries on which blockade is ineffective except indirectly.

Toronto to Vote On No-election Plan

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto electors will be given an opportunity New Year's Day to express approval or disapproval of Premier Hepburn's decision to cancel municipal elections in Ontario during wartime.

In deciding on the vote the city council agreed the plebiscite should be worded in such a manner that the public would be able to vote "yes" or "no" to the following questions:

1. Are you in favor of suspending the annual municipal elections for a period of two years for the duration of the present war and if war continues beyond two years?

2. Are you in favor of changing the term of office of mayor, controllers and alderman from a one-year to a two-year term?

Russia Getting Uneasy?

RUSSIAN NEWSPAPERS ARE BEGINning to betray a little perplexity as to the course of events since Turkey definitely associated herself with Britain and France.
The army's journal, Red Star, seems quite annoyed because there is now real prospect of a Balkan bloc—encouraged by the Allies —supported in its neutral conduct by Turkey in the east and by Italy in the west. And the Moscow regime's Pravda has accused the Turkish Ankara Times with attempts to "split" Germany and Russia. This, incidentally, is the first Soviet criticism of friendly Turkey for a long time. Perhaps Stalin's journalistic mouthpiece is finding it difficult to get over its disappointment with Foreign Commissar Molotov's failure to impress Turkish Minister Saracoglu when the latter spent a month in Moscow recently.

How far Stalin expected to go into the Balkans without much obstruction probably nobody besides himself knows. It is no secret that he wants to repossess Bessarabia, that he would like to dictate the administration of traffic through the Dardanelles, and it is not unlikely that he would prefer a stronger position in southeastern Europe if only to use it as an additional argument with which to persuade Germany to do his bidding when he feels the occasion demands.
But if he had hoped to utilize Russia's "friendship" with Turkey to further any particular schemes he conceived after his simple manipulation of Germany's victory over Poland, the march of events during the last month must have seriously disillusioned him. The idea of a press campaign, however, obviously has been borrowed from his Nazi neighbor, who, of course, does not seem to be taking any pains at all to obscure his difficulties of decision as to the next move.

It is no secret that Italy for some time has been engaged in guarded negotiations with all her Balkan neighbors with the object of solidifying southeastern Europe's neutrality. The first intimation that she had been successful came from Bucharest yesterday. In effect, this conveyed the suggestion that Rumania, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Hungary, Greece and Turkey had agreed to make no hostile move against one another, and to refrain from pressing any territorial claims for the duration of the war. Taken at its face value, therefore, it would seem that one of the most delicate of situations in this part of Europe—the somewhat strained relations between Rumania and Bulgaria over the Dobruja section which the former took from the latter after the last war—has been disposed of, for the time being, at any rate.
For it has long been supposed that Soviet Russia, by virtue of her designs, real or assumed, on Rumanian Bessarabia would back Bulgaria if she felt disposed to press her claims to Dobruja.

Italy's position in the Mediterranean, of course, would be much more satisfactory if she could be sure of a complete understanding with the six Balkan states to which we have referred. While there does not seem the slightest prospect of her assisting her axis partner, Premier Mussolini naturally is counting his supporters in the unlikely event of Germany putting the Rome-Berlin accord to the acid test, which may be in the back of the disordered Hitlerian mind. But if it has suddenly dawned on both Russia and the Berlin hierarchy that the seven states composing the Balkans—the smaller ones embodied by the sponsorship of Italy and Turkey—will resist any challenge to their independence, today's outburst in several Soviet newspapers is not so difficult to understand. It is Moscow's job to keep that part of Europe agitated to bolster up the Reich's courage. And Stalin is not unmindful of Anglo-French pledges to three of those states. The seven combined, incidentally, can draw upon the physical and material resources of a population of 116,000,000.

Defective Eyesight

ONE OF THE STARTLING REVELAtions made by the Public Health Bureau of the American Optometric Association is that 10,000,000 American school children have defective vision. We are told that most of these cases need immediate correction;
and that the majority affected come from families in the lower income brackets.

This has all the appearance of an appalling condition. It suggests that many of the cases will be neglected simply because parents have inadequate means to meet the cost of necessary treatments. It may mean that some children will be left with faulty vision that will grow more serious as the years pass.

What is true of the neighboring republic in this regard is probably true of Canada and other countries. Perhaps one of these days the legislative bodies of all those nations which still enjoy the privileges of democratic government will show a greater inclination to wrestle with the unspectacular problems of life than they appear to be inclined to do at present.

It ought not to be necessary for a war
to reveal to the general public the simplicity with which money can be found when it is urgently wanted. But, for some reason, our lawmakers require a good deal of prodding to discuss a monetary appropriation for a humanitarian cause—particularly in peacetime.

When Danger Lurks

THIS IS THE TIME OF YEAR TO remind motorists who want to see the flowers of spring that frosts, and even the occasional snow we get in this neighborhood, which visit us during the shorter days on the calendar, usually bring an annual increase in the number of highway fatalities.

November and December may well be described as two treacherous months for drivers of automobiles, which also means,
of course, for pedestrians who do not take just a little more than ordinary care as they venture on the line of vehicular traffic. One authority in the United States tells us that in the last quarter of the year the average number of accident fatalities throughout his country is 3,700 each month. The average for all other months is 2,840. This increase, he says, is attributable not only to icy conditions of the pavement, but also to the fact that there is a longer period of darkness.
Most accidents occur at night, and during the period from October to January, the rate of highway fatalities is three times greater at night than during daylight hours.

Motorists who recognize wintry conditions as a menace to safe driving and who take proper precautions will not contribute to the death total. Those who drive merrily along the highways, often at greater speeds than the law allows and with little thought of the danger of skidding, would be doing themselves and the general public a service by confining their activities to roads with little traffic—or, perhaps, by keeping their cars in the garage when tricky driving conditions prevail.

High War Potential

CANADA'S POSITION IN THE ECOnomic sphere is considered by the Bank of Nova Scotia's current monthly letter as particularly fortunate for the Allied war effort. It emphasizes the fact that, in proportion to our population, we have a very high war potential, if for no other reasons than because we have unused resources and because our standard of living is comparatively high. We then read:

"But there are other reasons. The most outstanding of these arise from our proximity to the vast and highly-developed industrial capacity of the United States, and our distance from the theatre of war. In other words, we are not faced with an immediate choice between 'guns and butter.' For the time being, we can have both, and this problem will not become urgent until our resources of men, materials and equipment are approaching the limits of their capacity."

What Next In Finland?

CONVERSATIONS BETWEEN FINNISH
spokesmen and Russia's negotiators at Moscow appear to have ended with no agree-
capital for Helsinki last night.

These negotiations began as soon as Russia had won concessions from Latvia, Estonia, and Lithuania early last month. All along the line, however, Finland has been found anything but pliable in Russian hands. It is generally understood the conversations finally broke down when the Soviet demands included one for a naval base on Finnish territory at the entrance of the Gulf of Finland, with revision of the southern border between the two countries.

It now remains to be seen what move
Russia will make to try to gain her points.
The employment of force may be postponed
if only to escape moral condemnation—if that means anything to M. Stalin. But Finland evidently intends to resist trespass.

Have heart enough to care enough to share enough.

A decree of the government in Turkey outlaws whirling dervishes. After giving whole careers to the art, these unfortunates
now have nowhere to turn.

Suspension of leased wire services for racing syndicates may force gamblers to go back to more primitive systems of losing their money, such as throwing dice.

Consuming Our Capital

From Financial News
E. C. Manning, the chief forester, who has in years past taken upon himself the onus of responsibility in warning against forest "mining"—and, to some extent, has suffered the unpopularity of the bearer of bad tidings—this year varied his method before the committee. He had available the British Columbia evidence to the Rowell Commission, in which the province was officially arguing its need for better terms from the Dominion government. The forestry head quoted from the various documents making up this report to substantiate his arguments in years past.

He said, in summary: "I draw two main deductions from the report on agriculture to the Rowell Commission when combined with our knowledge of other pertinent facts:

"(1) That the future of many of our agricultural communities will be jeopardized if we fail to perpetuate our forest crop.

"(2) That it is quite obvious that the continued prosperity of British Columbia must largely come from the assets of the nonarable 98 per cent of the province. These assets are chiefly the mines and the forests."

Mr. Manning went on to develop the point that the mines represented wasting assets which would eventually be worked out and the revenues from forest exploitation were not properly revenues but mainly capital resources upon which the province was drawing.

WAR STILL

THE HOUSE began to fight, the war all over again yesterday, and will continue to fight for some time yet, both before prorogation and long afterwards into the next election campaign.

Yesterday's battle was notable for a deep, raw bitterness unknown here for a score of years. Much of it was unparliamentary and in violation of the rules, but who cares about a little thing like the rules at a time like this? Not the House, and the Speaker seemed to feel that the ladies and gentlemen had better get it out of their systems.

The government, for its part, would never have tolerated some of the language used by the opposition, if it had been used against a Liberal member. As it was simply a knock-down-and-drag-out fight between the two op-positions, the government let them call each other any names they pleased.

Not within memory have such names been called. Mr. Anscomb of Victoria, Mr. Maitland's putative minister of finance, started the trouble. It has been said by a great artist that behind every artist as he paints there should be a man with an axe who would use it on the artist's head, sharply and finally, when the picture was completed, lest the original vigor and quality of it be marred by a superfluous brush stroke. The same arrangement would save many parliamentary speeches, and would have saved Mr.
Anscomb's from a grave blemish.

BROAD STROKES

HE WAS PRETTY RIGOROUS to start with, laying on his primary colors with a sweeping stroke. Mrs. Steeves he called a foreigner (she was born Dutch) who accepted the tolerance of a British people and then attacked their civilization and war aims.
Even if she were traitorous in her mind to the country which had befriended her she should have had the decency, said Mr. Anscomb, to keep quiet about it. Conservatives and Liberals nodded approval.

Mrs. Steeves was writing a note and didn't appear in the least ruffled, but her lady colleague, Mrs. Jamieson, was scarlet with rage and, unable to contain it, shouted out: "Shame! Shame!"

Mr. Anscomb saw no reason for shame.
Coldly, clearly, loudly, every word memorized in advance, he went on to add the superfluous stroke to his canvas, the extra touch which marred it. With meaning quite clear, he said that a Communist lady near Victoria had made a speech a few years ago that was too Communist and the good people of the neighborhood, taking the situation into their own hands, had so treated her that she had been unable to sit down comfortably for three weeks. And this lady was not foreign, and there had been no war on at that time either.

The suggestion that Mrs. Steeves should be treated the same way, or at least that she was lucky to escape such treatment, was unmistakable, and, of course, it offered the C.C.F. just the opportunity it wanted. Mr.
Anscomb will not hear the end of the lady who was spanked for a long time to come.
The Conservative Party will wish it had never heard of her.

NO FURY

MRS. JAMIESON got her chance a little later in the afternoon, and she took it with a cold, white-faced anger interesting to behold. Hell, said she, looking at Mr.
Anscomb, hath no fury like a noncombatant.
She had always thought up to now, she said, that sadism was confined to Fascist countries, and she had not expected to see in the Legislature the sadism of a man who, unwilling to go out and get the physical thrill of killing his enemies on the battlefield, gets it vicariously by "talking of violence on the body of a woman."

Those are what you might conservatively term fighting words. As a member of this House is forbidden to cast any reflection on another, they were clearly out of order, but nobody objected. Everybody listened with a sudden tense hush. When the women get busy it is no time for male politicians to mix
in. A noncombatant, as Mrs. Jamieson said, may be pretty bad, but Hell hath no fury
like a political woman scorned.

Mrs. Smith, usually so mild-mannered and charming, took off her gloves to do a little polishing of her own at the end of her speech on youth training. The object of the polishing, of course, was Mrs. Steeves. Concerning her, Mrs. Smith laid down the ancient principle that in this war "those who are not with us must certainly be against us."

Mrs. Steeves listened with poker face, but you could hear the womanly daggers whistling through the air and landing with a rending sound.

Apart from all this unpleasantness, the Conservatives began to find their voice, long dammed up by political truce. You might say now that the truce is ended, the dikes broken, and the speeches will inundate the lowlands before the government can advance.

LOOKING BACKWARD

THE VOICE of the Conservative Party, in the person of Mr. Anscomb, was loud, powerful and logical. He looks the part of a financial critic—buge, square of jaw, harsh of utterance, and of undoubted conviction.
A burly, earthy, able man who sometimes pauses to joke like a playful and overgrown bullock.

His conviction, of course, is that business should be left alone, that we should stop all this nonsense of business in government and get back to the good old law of supply and demand—a policy, by the way, just about opposite to that of the Conservative Party in Ottawa and to the Conservative platform in British Columbia. That fact never worried Mr. Anscomb. Alone and unafraid he has carried on his war against the socializa-

Why the Soviet Fears Post-Hitler Europe

By WALTER LIPPMANN

THE SOVIET demands on Finland tend to confirm the view that Stalin is now trying to protect himself against Germany in a post-Hitler Europe. He tells us that "the problem of the Soviet Union's security is even more acute inasmuch as Leningrad, which after Moscow is the most important city of the Soviet state, is situated at a distance of only 32 kilometres from the Finnish border." When we remember that on this continent very important cities on both sides of the U.S.-Canada line are much nearer than that to the border, and that we have no feeling of insecurity whatever, we may well ask what Russia, with her 160,000,000, fears from Finland, with her 3,000,000.

Obviously, what Russia fears,
in the first instance, is Germany, and not Finland. For Germany is the only great power capable of invading Russia and capturing Leningrad. So if Germany won the war, Stalin would have to look to his defenses, and his demands on Finland are for the purpose of strengthening his defenses. But there is more to it than that. If Hitler loses the war, the new Reich will make a true peace with Great Britain, and that new Reich, if peace comes before the German army disintegrates, will be German rather than Nazi, conservative rather than revolutionary. In that event all the nations around the Baltic Sea will have both German and British support.
Including the support of the British navy, against the danger which they fear more than any other, the westward advance of Russia.

SO STALIN'S policy is to protect himself against Germany and the western allies by the double device of occupying strategic points and by giving some help to an increasingly subservient Hitler. What he dreads now is not Hitler, but post-Hitler Germany and a victory of the Allies. Such an outcome will restore in some form or other the independence of all the non-Russian people from Scandinavia to the Mediterranean, and above all it will make Germany once more a great western power, able to exercise again that rightful and necessary influence in the east which Hitler's stupendous blunder has for the time being destroyed.

Mr. Molotov said in his speech

tion of this country for years and been pushed back, step by step, until any man less courageous and less simple and tough of mind would have known long ago that it was hopeless.

His criticism of Mr. Hart was penetrating and powerful, even if Mr. Hart smiled through it.
After all, it was not this government that for a forgotten little man named J. W. Jones who imposed the taxes now yielding the government's bumper revenues. Mr.
Jones sowed the seed, this government reaps the harvest. It seemed to Mr. Anscomb, indeed, that Mr. Hart was taking credit for the end of the world depression, and for every other pleasant thing in the country, except, perhaps, the increase in population. Mr. Hart smiled modestly back at his fellow townsman as if he didn't wish to deny his shortcomings or claim anything beyond his due.

Mayhew's Stand Given Support

Provided all Dominion government building projects were postponed for the duration of the war, members of the building trades group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce would not object if the construction of the new post-office building here were shelved for that period.

That was the feeling expressed at a special meeting of the group held yesterday afternoon, and R. W. Mayhew, M.P. for Victoria, conveyed the message to Ottawa.

This was taken as an expression of satisfaction of the personal viewpoint voiced by Mr. Mayhew last week, when he stated at a meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce he would not object if the government would not object to go ahead with the local project. All the meeting asked was that his viewpoint be supplemented with the provision that the whole program across Canada be wiped out for the time being.

Mr. Mayhew, however, pointed out that plans for the local building would continue to go ahead. The price of the local building would be placed in the estimates each year to keep it alive, the member for Victoria told the meeting.

"The government has not stated its intention to defer its building program, but my object is to leave the door open for the ministers so that they can abandon it temporarily if they desire to," he said.

He reiterated his previous statement that it was probable that the money earmarked for the building projects would be more urgently needed for Canada's successful prosecution of the war.

Work this building program would provide would be needed much more when the war was ended, Mr. Mayhew said. He added he did not think the postponing of the building projects would injure labor, as he believed all labor would be called on to build boats and manufacture munitions, which was part of Canada's program in the war.

When it was said at the meeting that it would be costlier to construct the local building in wartime, due to increased prices in materials, contractors and mill officials at the meeting stated that materials that could be procured locally would cost about the same as usual, but imported material would be extremely high. Carl Pendray added the price of paint would shortly go up 50 per cent.

While some members present did not approve of Mr. Mayhew's viewpoint at the outset, all had joined hands with him at the close of the meeting.

Flour Milling History Told

The presentation of eight annual reports, announcement of the ballot for the election of a new council, and the reading of a paper by the president, John Goldie, were included in the annual meeting of the Victoria section, British Columbia Historical Association, which lasted nearly two hours, in the Empress Hotel last evening.

The major part of the meeting was taken up with Mr. Goldie's paper, titled "Flour Milling in Canada."

The history of flour milling in Canada covered the entire period of settlement in the country. There had never been a complete history of flour-milling ever written.

The first flour mill in Canada was started in Port Royal, Nova Scotia, in 1604. By 1665 there were nine mills, and regulations at that time permitted the miller to keep one-fourteenth of the flour he ground for his services. By 1724 there were 118 flour mills in the country.

A characteristic as told of the "honest miller" was his "sneaking" of more than his toll when grinding of the farmers' grain, Mr. Goldie said.

In 1792 a regulation was enforced which allowed the miller no more than one-twelfth of the flour he ground for his pay. The penalty for overcharging was $10.

Mr. Goldie told of the development of flour-milling from the east to the west with the opening of the country by the railroad. From 1860 to 1874 the first mill and bakery in Victoria, which was then a fort, supplied the navy at Esquimalt with biscuits. In 1855 two mills were built on the island, one at Sooke and the other at Parson's Bridge.

The speaker gave details of the operations of mills in the eighties in various parts of the province. Great strides had been made in milling flour in Canada since the early days. The first system of milling flour was a simple smashing process of the grain, but in 1880 a gradual reduction system of milling was introduced which had since been improved upon. The first new type mill to be built was in Victoria on Herald Street.

NEW COUNCIL ANNOUNCED

The following were elected to the council for the coming year in an announcement by the president: Mrs. M. R. Cree, Mrs. W. C. Sampson, Miss A. Russell, Miss M. Wolfenden, Miss M. Galt, F. C. Green, Dr. W. K. Lamb, B. A. McKelvie, E. W. McMullen, H. Nation, Dr. J. S. Plaskett and Dr. T. A. Rickard. The past president was included in the new council also. The council will choose the officers of the organization.

The longest of the eight reports submitted was Mrs. Cree's secretarial report. The report gave details of each meeting held by the organization during the past year, and other activities of the section. A steadfast interest had been shown by the members in the club's object of finding and studying historical truths, the report stated.

A substantial balance in the treasury was reported by the treasurer, Miss Wolfenden.

Dr. Lamb reported on publications and said that there were 485 paid subscriptions to the association's magazine. There were 462 members in the provincial association.

Mrs. G. Phillips gave an extensive report on deaths of pioneers and persons of historical interest during the year.

Mr. Nation reported on mining in the province and said that the gold mines of British Columbia had been worked as hard as possible since the outbreak of war.

Historical data findings were reported on by C. C. Pemberton. Mr. Pemberton emphasized the fact that the historical street name "Meares" in Victoria was usually spelt incorrectly, the last "e" being omitted.

G. Hamilton Harman gave the auditor's report, and the final report was the marine committee's, submitted by Major F. W. Longstaff.

A scheduled talk on the Royal Tour in stamp issues by Hubert Lethaby was postponed until a future meeting.

Small Raises In Low Wage Bracket

A total of 16 monthly wage increases, aggregating $109.25, were approved by the City Council yesterday on the recommendation of the special wage committee under the chairmanship of Alderman John A. Worthington.

They included one raise of $25 a month, two of $15, two of $10, and others ranging as low as $1.25. Only those civic employees securing less than $100 a month were affected, Alderman Worthington stated. He noted another alderman had remarked the report was the product of nearly a year's study and had been influenced by war conditions. He did not wish to see salaries cut next year, and stated any move that might increase the burden on the taxpayer was due for careful consideration.

Alderman W. L. Morgan brought in an amendment to have the report tabled a week for study. The aldermen, he said, were not conversant with the changes. His amendment was defeated and the original motion, calling for the increases to be put into effect from November 1, carried.

EXISTING DISCREPANCY

In the debate Alderman Morgan suggested attention should be taken on a case in the assessor-collector's department, where a head clerk received $1 a month less than his assistant.

"I agree with this report as far as it goes, but it doesn't go far enough," Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, a member of the wage committee, stated. He was not, he added, trying to make political capital of the issue.

Alderman B. J. Gadsden, the other member of the three-man committee, declared he would not be thoroughly satisfied until a regular schedule of wage scales for various posts was put into force. He would vote for the suggested increases, he said, on the principle they were helping those most in need.

WHERE INCREASES GIVEN

The approved recommendations gave one employee of the collector's department a $10 raise to $105 a month, and two others increases of $15 to $80 and $65 respectively. One in the comptroller's department received $25 to raise his monthly pay to $100. In the lands department an increase of $10 was added to make a salary $70. In the legal department a $5 raise boosted an income to $90. In the welfare department three $15 increases were granted raising stenographers' salaries to $70. Another received $12.25 to make her wage

Save $27,000 On Relief in City

A saving to the city of approximately $27,000 from the original estimate for relief expenditure in Victoria this year was forecast in a city welfare report submitted to the City Council yesterday afternoon.

Basing its estimate on the expenditures for the first nine months of the year, the department report stated in part "on an actual cost basis it is expected the cost of relief for the year will be at least $27,000 below the amount allowed under the 1938 budget." That budget was cut by the council to $100,000 when estimates were approved.

The report set total costs for the year, on the revised plan, at approximately $73,000. That figure was made up of $52,400 in intermunicipal and direct relief, $10,500 in materials supplied to relief recipients, $5,100 in doctors' fees and $5,000 in drugs.

A grant of $4,000 from the Community Chest for supplementary aid had further assisted the department this year, it was stated. The report noted October was the lowest month on record for family units.

"The type of relief recipient left on our rolls are those who are the most difficult to place in employment," the report said.

Supplementing the report, Alderman Archie Wills, chairman of the welfare committee, stated his group would deal with complaints only when such protests were submitted in writing to the whole committee. The complainant could appear personally if he wished. The policy, he said, was adopted to study complaints in the relief office, where full data was available on case histories and proper decisions could be reached.

"I'm certainly glad to hear that. It will relieve me of a lot of trouble," the mayor commented.

NO CHEST GRANT

The council decided to give consideration to means of raising $4,000 for supplementary aid for relief cases.

Action along that line was advocated by Mayor McGavin after Alderman Wills announced that municipal cases were excluded from the list of recipients of the chest's 1940 charities, following combination of the general chest drive with that of the Canadian Red Cross. The surrounding municipalities have also been asked to look after their supplementary relief in future.

Alderman Wills stated the $4,000 provided extras in the way of clothing, shoes, dental work, fuel, glasses, stove repairs and incidentals this year. The extras were urgently necessary and the city would have to provide the means to purchase them in some way, the alderman said. Expenditures in respect to the extras were absolutely justified. The work done by the relief committee in that connection was just as commendable as any, Alderman R. A. C. Dewar declared.

The mayor suggested Victoria should stage its own drive to raise $4,000.

Alderman Ed. Williams was supported in a move to refer the matter back to the relief committee for study.

"If we can't get it from the Community Chest we must get it elsewhere," he remarked.

Alderman S. H. Okell agreed the supplementary relief was urgently needed.

SEEK ELDERLY MAN

John Bunce, 80, of Vancouver, is the object of a search by Victoria and provincial police. He has been missing from his home on the mainland since September 30, on which date he was reported to have taken the morning boat for Victoria.

On arrival here he sent a wire home to say he would return next day, and has been unreported since. Police said he was six foot one inch and weighs 200 pounds, with a close-clipped moustache. When last seen he was wearing a dark-grey suit, a dark fedora hat, black shoes and a dark overcoat.

A permit for $1,320 alterations to the second and fifth floors of the Belmont Building was issued by the city building inspector's department yesterday.

Gangs scheduled to undertake drainage work in the Runnymede area were switched to Stadacona Park yesterday to relieve possible flood conditions in that district.

$80, a male employee was increased $3 to $85, and another woman received $3 to make her cheque $75. At the Old Men's Home a man was raised $5 to $65, two parks department employees were boosted $5 to $100 and $95 respectively, and an increase in the health office of $1.75 raised another employee to $70.

City Council Topics PET HOSPITAL MOVE OPPOSED

Opposition to the proposal to rezone a section of Pandora Avenue to permit operation there of a small pet hospital was contained in a letter to the city from the Clayton Estate which controls several properties in the vicinity. The creation of a pet hospital, the writer stated, would adversely affect the value of property in the district. He will be given an opportunity to address the council at a zoning appeal session next Monday at 3.30.

Residents of Carberry Gardens, in a petition filed for City Council consideration yesterday afternoon, request the city to take steps to provide adequate drainage for that area. The request was referred to the public works committee.

Two protests over changes in street names suggested in a recent report to the City Council were referred to the intermunicipal committee, author of the proposals, by the council yesterday.

Oak Bay's request for a statement from the city on its decisions regarding water rates was turned over to the water board, on the understanding that body would meet this week to consider the communication, among other things.

The council received and filed a communication from the British Columbia Council of Longshoremen protesting proposed legislation which would permit a municipality to enter the stevedoring business. Endorsement of such legislation was given at the recent Union of British Columbia Municipalities' convention.

On the recommendation of the building inspector and the lands commissioner, the council decided to pay the required $4,357 owing on new grain-cleaning equipment at the Ogden Point elevator. The machinery, the officials reported, was operating satisfactorily.

A motion setting up machinery for the licensing of small loan companies, expected to operate here shortly, was carried.

The health committee received support for a move to spend $430 on repairs to the Chinese Hospital.

Thanks of the city to those agencies which assisted in making Halloween bonfires a success this year was conveyed in a resolution sponsored by the parks committee. Alderman S. H. Okell specifically thanked the parent-teacher associations of the city, the Kinsmen Club, the Y.M.C.A., St. John Ambulance Brigade and the Provincial Recreation Department for their contributions to the events. In another section of the resolution the council was asked to refer to the 1940 estimates committee a suggestion that the vote for the Halloween festivities be increased by $60 to ensure a sum of $25 for each of six fires in the city next year.

Parent-teacher associations had assisted the financing of the parties in the past, and should not be required to spend money they could not afford as well as contribute their energies to making the events a success, Alderman Okell stated.

Will Beautify Laurel Point

Plans for the beautification of Laurel Point as well as the property on the road approach to the British American Paint Co. Ltd. were announced by J. C. Pendray, president of the company, in a letter addressed to the City Council yesterday.

Mr. Pendray stated the company intended to plant shrubs and flowers along the waterfront and also to beautify the entrance to the yard of the paintworks.

"Would it be possible to arrange with the city to have the boulevards completed running up for about a block on Montreal Street, also the vacant property on the corner of Montreal and Belleville Streets leveled off and sown into grass so that it will be in keeping with the rest of our beautification scheme?" the letter asked in part.

"We are not asking the city to spend any money. We are prepared to pay the expenses of any work done by the city in connection with beautifying Laurel Point," the letter continued, noting the scheme would be of mutual benefit to the city and the company in enhancing the view which greeted tourists arriving in Victoria.

The letter was referred to the parks committee on the suggestion of its chairman, Alderman S. H. Okell.

In reply to question, Mayor McGavin stated the appearance of old company holdings bordering the harbor entrance was being improved.

LOCAL MAN SUFFERED 9 YEARS --- SAYS MOSBY'S TONIC BROUGHT RELIEF

"I Was in Distress With Soreness in My Stomach Due to Continual Bloating," States Mr. McKenzie. "And My Stomach Was Acidic and Bowels Constipated. But Now Mosby's Tonic Has Relieved Me. I Gladly Endorse This Splendid Medicine."

MR. WALTER MCKENZIE, well-known Victoria citizen, is now adding his name to the long list of local people who publicly endorse this new, scientific medicine, MOSBY'S TONIC. Read his grateful testimonial.

Now Tells of Relief From Mosby's Tonic

"Just as my condition seemed to be getting worse I began to read in the papers about Mosby's Tonic, and finally I got this medicine and started taking it. And I want to say that it has given me relief. It relieved my sour and bloated stomach to such an extent that I do not have that soreness like I did, and do not experience those headaches as before. It also relieved me of constipation, which had troubled me badly for years. It is hard for me to put into words, but if you understand how badly I felt before I found Mosby's Tonic, and how much better I feel now, then you would realize why I think so much of this splendid medicine, and why I gladly give you my statement and publicly endorse it."

Many Ingredients!

Mosby's Tonic is a medicine of many ingredients, that is, it contains 15 roots and herbs blended with 5 other splendid medicaments: 20 INGREDIENTS IN ALL. That is why this medicine acts in 5 ways ALL AT ONCE. It helps flush bowels—helps clean out stomach gas—helps digestion—helps sluggish kidneys—assists you to richer and stronger blood. Try this New, Scientific Formula. It is helping THOUSANDS of sufferers all over this vicinity. Costs only a few Cents a Day!

A Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as THE MOSBY TONIC MAN, is now at THE CUNNINGHAM DRUG STORE, Port and Douglas Sts., Victoria, daily, meeting crowds of people and introducing and explaining this New Compound.

A Blanshard St. Man Had Years' Distress

"For the last 9 years I had been a victim of sour and bloated stomach distress," said Mr. McKenzie. "At first this suffering of mine would come and go, and would then come back again and leave me once more, but in the past year it had gotten so I was much worse than previously. I was bloated badly all the time and this continual bloating and distention of my stomach made my abdomen so sore that at times I just felt like I couldn't stand another minute of it. Oh! I tell you, I certainly suffered! I also had a sour condition in my stomach which seemed to poison my general system. Would have headaches frequently, and my bowels were badly constipated.

B.C. Council Women To Meet Here Thursday

Plans Completed at Yesterday's Local Council Meeting

Final arrangements for the annual meeting of the Provincial Council of Women, to be held in the Y.W.C.A. on Thursday morning and afternoon, were made at the monthly meeting of the Local Council, held in the same place yesterday afternoon. Dr. Olga Jardine presided.

THE AGENDA

Thursday's meeting, which will be attended by delegates from all the councils of British Columbia, will open at 10. At the morning session, the correspondence, treasurer's report, and reports of the special committees, including Mrs. Rines on Oakalla and Mrs. A. C. Ross on the constitution, will be received, and at 11 resolutions will be considered.

In the afternoon at 2, Mr. George R. Mathews, secretary of the B.C. Board of the Retail Merchants' Association, will speak briefly, followed by Council reports, and "National Impressions," by Mrs. J. F. Shaw of Chilliwack. At 3.30, Dr. Ian Cowan will give a 15-minute talk on the Provincial Museum, with the aid of many beautiful films; after which new business will be considered. Tea will be served by the Victoria Local Council.

The evening will be given over to the preparation of the Provincial Council's brief to place before the Provincial Cabinet on Friday morning.

REGISTRATION GOOD

In answer to a question, Dr. Jardine stated that registration of women for Greater Victoria totaled about 5,500, which compared most favorably with the response in other parts of Canada. She was named by the meeting to represent the Council on the advisory board to the Red Cross which is being formed.

Mrs. H. M. Hall, local convener of town planning and housing, gave an interesting report which she had prepared in answer to a questionnaire sent out by the national convener, concerning a proposed plan for a working man's dwelling. Among other things, the report brought out the great defect in the National Home Loan Act in that it failed to meet local needs and conditions or to aid the lower income group.

Delegates to the Provincial Council meeting on Thursday will include Dr. Olga Jardine, Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, Mrs. J. W. Gibson, Mrs. I. Fleming, Mrs. Hugh Mackenzie and Mrs. H. P. Hodges, these being named yesterday. Mrs. A. E. Hopkins was appointed registrar for Thursday's meeting. Delegates were also instructed on the voting for the various resolutions sent in from the councils for consideration Thursday.

PRESIDENT TO RETIRE

Tentative arrangements were also made for the annual meeting of the Local Council of Women to be held in February. Dr. Olga Jardine announced that she will then retire from the presidency, after holding that office for three years. Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. A. E. Hopkins, recording secretary, also announced that they are retiring from their respective offices. The affiliated societies were asked to note these resignations in their search for nominations for office in the Local Council.

Dr. Jardine reminded the members of the appeal made by the Dominion Department of Agriculture to consumers to eat more apples and apple products, to offset for farmers and fruit-growers the loss of the British market.

Mrs. J. W. Gibson was named to represent the council on the committee in charge of the arrangements for the school of co-operation to be held here in the new year under the auspices of the University of B.C. extension department.

Junior League to Buy Gifts for Solarium

Vote $250 for Needed Equipment; Special Chair Given

Organized only a few weeks ago, the Junior League to the Queen Alexandra Solarium convincingly proved itself to be a valuable asset to the institution when, last night, its members voted $250 to purchase much-needed equipment and announced the gift of an all-purpose chair for one of the little patients.

Miss Patricia Cattroll, the convener, reported on the success of the chrysanthemum show at Mr. T. Takahashi's, which netted $222. This, with the generous gifts of other friends, brought the bank balance up to $268, the treasurer, Mrs. F. Waring reported, and of this amount $250 was at once voted for the immediate purchase of several items which are urgently needed at the Solarium.

Miss Doreen Catrall was appointed convener of the purchasing committee, with the assistance of Misses Kay Cullum and Patricia Carney.

Miss Ella Dryden reported that Mrs. Hancock of Happy Valley had generously donated an all-purpose chair. Miss Jean Chatham was named head of the transportation committee, with the assistance of Mrs. C. W. Chapman.

An invitation was extended by Mrs. C. W. Chapman for the members to hold their get-together at her home, Rosebery Avenue, on December 1. The invitation from the Solarium to the concert on December 20 was accepted, and arrangements were made by the members to decorate the Solarium for Christmas, on Sunday, December 17.

It was decided to postpone the silver tea until the New Year, when it is planned to hold a Valentine tea. A white elephant sale will be held in January.

Miss Patricia Cattroll reported

Tea was served inside the house and those assisting were Mrs. Ian McCallum, Mrs. I. C. Raycroft, Mrs. Dennis Humphries, Miss Jeanne Chatham and Miss Vivian Pennock. Miss Masa Takahashi and Miss Stella Yozu (Seattle) also assisted, dressed in native Japanese costume.

Other members of the committee who helped with tickets and sale of plants included Mrs. F. Waring, Misses Kay Cullum, Ruth Pangman, Margaret Mossey and Pat Carney.

Praises Women's Work in War

MONTREAL (CP) — Queen Elizabeth in her Remembrance Day broadcast uttered "about the last thing there is to be said about women's work in this war," Lady Tweedsmuir told members of the Montreal West Women's Club in a luncheon address yesterday.

"And it could not be said with more beauty or clarity, or with more sincerity," said Lady Tweedsmuir, wife of the Governor-General.

"We in Canada are not feeling the war," said Lady Tweedsmuir. "I wish we could feel it more. Believe me the war is all through the national life now. I cannot tell you how much I admire the Canadians, especially now they have put all their resources into the struggle."

"Canada has made up her mind to draw her sword in the cause of right, and the way you are standing up to it and responding is magnificent."

Miss Patricia Cattroll reported

It's the ideal powder for baby—genuinely air-float talc mildly medicated with soothing balsamic oils.

HEMMING-MARR

VANCOUVER—Pink and white chrysanthemums decorated Grace United Church for the wedding of Margaret Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Marr, and Mr. Cecil C. Hemming, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hemming of Victoria. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. H. Hamilton, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a gown of gleaming white satin with rose point lace redingote. A cap of gardenias held in place her embroidered veil and she carried a shower bouquet of Briardiff roses and gardenias.

Mrs. J. S. Terry, who was her sister's matron of honor, wore a gown of orchid chiffon with matching halo hat and carried a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums, while the bridesmaids, Misses Elsie Kelly and Lillian Brown, wore gowns of pink and turquoise blue taffeta with bustle effects, and short jackets threaded in gold. Their tiny net hats matched their frocks and they carried yellow chrysanthemums.

Mr. David Pite of Victoria was best man and Messrs. J. S. Terry and Archie Hemming were the ushers. Mr. J. C. Pickard sang "Because" during the signing of the register.

The Eagles' Hall was the setting for the reception, when the bride's mother greeted the guests wearing a frock of poude blue crept with wine velvet hat and a corsage of pink carnations. She was assisted by the groom's mother, in a figured mauve crepe frock with contrasting black accessories and a similar corsage.

Mrs. M. H. Fowler, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. M. McClure, sister of the groom, presided at the urns.

For motoring south the bride changed to a dress of rosewood wool and grey fur-fabric jacket, black hat, with perky rose quill, and matching black accessories. She carried a black seal coat.

The couple will reside here on their return.

National Red Cross War Drive For $3,000,000

HOW is this money to be spent? The charter of the Canadian Red Cross Society sets out the objects of this great cause as follows:

"In times of peace or war to carry on and assist in work for the improvement of health, the prevention of disease and the mitigation of suffering throughout the world."

Last year the sum of $1,000,000.00 was collected to finance the peace-time work of the Society. Today, because of the greater needs of war, three times that amount must be raised. Peacetime activities cannot be neglected and the programme of war relief must be initiated at once.

Consideration of the many aspects of Red Cross work in 1914-1918 gives some indication of the programme that will have to be undertaken in the present war.

HOSPITALS AND NURSES

Hospitals must be built and equipped in England and France to care for the Canadian sick and wounded. During the last war the Canadian Red Cross built and equipped (wholly or in part) hospitals at Taplow, Bushey Park, Ramsgate, Bexhill and Buxton in England; built and equipped one of the largest military hospitals in France; and established a depot in Boulogne for Canadian hospitals.

AMBULANCES

From 1914 to 1918 the Canadian Red Cross provided scores of ambulances to convey the sick and wounded in France and England.

MOTOR LORRIES

The Canadian Red Cross in France maintained a service of motor lorries to ensure the conveyance of Red Cross supplies with the greatest possible dispatch wherever needed.

SURGICAL SUPPLIES AND MEDICINES

X-Ray equipment, surgical apparatus, supplies and dressings must be purchased almost immediately. During the last war, 147,270 cases of supplies were sent to hospital units in England, in addition to supplies for hospitals in France. £2500 was contributed to equip a ward in the St. John Ambulance Brigade Hospital at Etaples in France.

FOOD AND COMFORTS

Again the Red Cross wishes to be able to send socks, cigarettes and other comforts to the front. During the last war, 341,325 cases of supplies were sent overseas. The Society sent sixty pounds of food per month to every Canadian prisoner of war, in addition to tobacco, medical supplies, clothing and books.

INFORMATION BUREAU

The Information Bureau set up at the London office rendered personal services to thousands of soldiers. Hospital visitors supplied Canadian patients with extra comforts and entertainments and reported their progress to relatives at home, and their needs to the Society. The Enquiry Department constantly searched for news of "missing" men to relieve the suspense of distant relatives.

A corps of voluntary workers will make a canvass of as many donors as possible during this drive. If one of these workers fails to get in touch with you, send in your contribution to your local Red Cross Branch. Give big-heartedly.

ARTICLE NO. 11

By ROBT. G. JACKSON, M.D.

HERE is one of the most wonderful experiences of my life. Two years ago I lectured in Charleston, S.C. After my second lecture a school inspector asked if I would like to hear 600 colored high school children sing. Would I?

I was delighted. Never was I more gracefully or courteously received than by that colored principal. We were escorted to the platform at once. A young colored woman, a Miss Middleton, I recall, led these 600 boys and girls, minus tuning fork or instrument, for one hour in singing the songs of the colored race as only the colored race can sing them. Actually these 600 wonderful voices sounded as one voice, so harmoniously were they timed and blended. Rhythm, swing, shading, crescendo and diminuendo! I have no words to describe the glory of their song. I was asked to "say a few words."

I ultimately did succeed, but for a moment or two my emotions held me dumb in front of that crowd of black up-turned, expectant faces and still I thrill at the recollection of the emotional transport of that great hour.

I was immensely thrilled when the principal brought out a copy of my book "HOW TO BE ALWAYS WELL" and requested me to autograph it, one of the 500,000 copies sold in the States. Still more was I thrilled when he informed me that my cereal, Dr. Jackson Meal (formerly Roman Meal) and Kofy-Sab are daily served in the lunch for undernourished pupils of the school, and daily appeared on his own table.

Yet thousands of Canadians have never tried these great body-building products, made in Canada and shipped to dealers in ten foreign countries and to individuals all over the world. When those Canadians finally discover the value of these foods, and try them, they will realize how much they have passed up by their conservatism. Sold by all grocers.

One-half million copies of my book "HOW TO BE ALWAYS WELL" have been sold at $3.00 per copy. If interested in better health, write for particulars to Robt. G. Jackson, M.D., Toronto 9, Ontario.

Bitter Personal Attacks Mark New Debate On War

Heated argument among British Columbia's legislators over the C.C.F. party's war stand flared up to a new high in personal bitterness and sarcasm when the budget debate got under way yesterday afternoon.

Again cries of "Shame, shame," were hurled across the House, as they had been at Mrs. D. G. Steeves, C.C.F. woman member for North Vancouver, nine days ago. But this time they were directed from the C.C.F. at Herbert Anscomb, Victoria Conservative, for declaring that Mrs. Steeves, a foreigner living among British tolerance, had not the decency to refrain from disloyal utterances. He labeled the C.C.F. Communists.

And then when Mrs. H. D. Smith, Liberal woman member for Vancouver-Burrard, challenged that "those who are not with us are against us," it was another woman, Mrs. Laura Jamieson, C.C.F. Vancouver Centre, who bitingly referred to Mr. Anscomb's remarks as sadistic.

Yesterday's "war incident" lacked the drama and violent exchanges of last week's sudden recriminations. But it became more personal and more direct as each speaker in the debate returned to the subject.

MRS. H. D. SMITH
(Liberal, Burrard)

Mrs. Smith said she had received hundreds of phone calls in Vancouver from women protesting against Mrs. Steeves' speech, which they called unpatriotic, to say the least, and almost indelible utterances. She also had letters from the east asking if this view was representative of the province as a whole.

DENIES COMMUNIST TAG
Harold Winch interrupted to deny that the C.C.F. was a Communist organization or that he was leader of the Communist Party.

"The member for Victoria doesn't know the difference," said E. E. Winch, C.C.F. Burnaby.

"No I don't," retorted Mr. Anscomb.

"There isn't any," said R. L. Maitland, K.C., Conservative leader.

Mr. Anscomb said there was an inference to be drawn from Mrs. Steeves and Dr. J. Lyle Telford addressing a rally of 8,000 Communists in Stanley Park in 1936.

He went on to say that Premier Pattullo might not have gone far enough when he simply proposed to notify the federal government of any further transgressions in war talk.

INCIDENT AT SIDNEY
"It might be well for the lady member especially to know that history has an unhappy knack of repeating itself," he declared, describing how when he was mayor of Victoria a woman active in Communist circles went too far in addressing a meeting at Sidney.

Victoria and the southern end of Vancouver Island is inhabited by people of very loyal British stock, he said, and the local people were so incensed they took the matter into their own hands—made the lady understand that Communism had no place in this community.

"As a result of which she found it took her some three weeks before she could sit down in comfort—but it completely cured her Communist tendencies. She, Mr. Speaker, was not even a foreigner and neither was there any war on at the time."

because he is of English stock, and should know better.

"As far as the lady member is concerned it is just another example—of which we have so many—of British tolerance towards foreigners in our midst.

"A more disgraceful exhibition of ingratitude it would be difficult to imagine.

"The lady member comes to this country under the British flag for the very obvious reason that she knows she would be far better off than in her native land and hasn't the decency—even if she does not understand it—to stop those utterances, even if her mind is disloyal to the country and the people who have befriended her."

"Shame, shame," shouted Mrs. Jamieson from her seat in the back row.

"Is it any wonder," continued Mr. Anscomb, "that the leader of the Communist Party in the Legislature should be so anxious to know if he and his party are to be granted immunity under the laws of Canada for any utterances they may make in this House?"

"A very excellent indication that they have no backbone if trouble is to loom ahead—only they are prepared to blaspheme the Empire and all that it stands for if they, personally, are perfectly free and guaranteed from attack."

BAD PUBLICITY
"The utterances of this minority group have given us very bad publicity," she said. "The member's remarks are all the more serious because they must be the considered opinion of the party. They could not be just a personal view, because members of the party are not permitted to give their own views."

She said she was sorry British Columbia had no chance to vindicate itself at a general election as Quebec had done. She was sure the result of such a poll would be overwhelmingly loyal.

Mrs. Smith said Canada obviously could not defend itself if Hitler won in Europe, and she quoted from Prime Minister Chamberlain regarding the Empire's unity in the struggle.

"There can be no half measures in this war," she declared. "Either Germany, with its persecution and aggression, is right, or we are. So we must say that those who are not with us are against us."

Loss Leader Bill in House

The new loss leader bill, which prevents the retail sale of any groceries or meats at less than 5 per cent above the wholesale price, reached the floor of the Legislature yesterday afternoon, sponsored by Mrs. H. D. Smith, Liberal, Vancouver-Burrard.

The bill, subject of controversy for some time, widens the provisions of the original Loss Leader Act of 1937 to cover any products handled in a grocery store, as well as meat. Only food products were covered by the first act, and meats, fruit and vegetables were excluded.

On meats the government would be given power to determine how the cost of various cuts must be allocated to different parts of a carcass.

Goods that became immediately perishable may be sold cheap if special inspectors approve.

Provisions are made in the new bill to overcome collusion between wholesalers and retailers in their sales, or in cases where retailers are owned by wholesalers.

The loss leader bill was one of several new pieces of legislation introduced yesterday.

Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, sponsored a government measure which will enable members of the Allied forces who have pre-emption holdings to get free grants to their land.

The Water Act is revised, by another bill, which turns over to the Public Utilities Commission many of the functions formerly handled by the water board, and leaves the board to supervise irrigation and waterworks districts and to deal with water licenses. It also contains some technical changes in the manner of administration.

Norway Oil Pound
OSLO—The Bank of Norway has ceased using the pound sterling as the basis for its exchange rates.

"HELL HATH NO FURY"
Speaking later in the afternoon, Mrs. Jamieson replied to Mr. Anscomb, who, she said, reminded her of a saying coined by "J. H. Barrie in the last war that 'Hell hath no fury like a non-combatant.'"

"I thought sadism was confined to the Fascist countries," she said. "But I think the member's references to the affair at Sidney were a fine example of a man unable to get the physical thrill he wants by killing men on the battlefield so takes it vicariously by talking of violence on the body of a woman."

Mrs. Jamieson bitterly attacked the colonial attitude of the government in trying to halt frank discussion of the war.

"We do so love to be colonial and try to be more British than the British," she declared, citing letters from H. G. Wells and others in The London Times that discussed the war aims and attitude in the most open manner.

"That's the way they are doing it in Britain, not sitting on debate like we colonialers are," she said.

HERBERT ANSCOMB
(Cons., Victoria)

Mr. Anscomb supplied the sparks for the fireworks, when he plunged into the issue almost immediately he had risen to his feet.

"I would be remiss in my duty, Mr. Speaker, if I did not at the very earliest opportunity express my disgust and the disgust of all decent thinking people—with the disloyal and traitorous speeches of the members for North Vancouver (Mrs. Steeves) and Comox (Colin Cameron, C.C.F.)," he said.

"It is the more to be regretted by the member for the latter point

because he is of English stock, and should know better.

"As far as the lady member is concerned it is just another example—of which we have so many—of British tolerance towards foreigners in our midst.

"A more disgraceful exhibition of ingratitude it would be difficult to imagine.

"The lady member comes to this country under the British flag for the very obvious reason that she knows she would be far better off than in her native land and hasn't the decency—even if she does not understand it—to stop those utterances, even if her mind is disloyal to the country and the people who have befriended her."

Anscomb Attacks Government Costs

Launching the budget debate in the Legislature yesterday for the opposition, Herbert Anscomb, Victoria Conservative, demanded that the government peg its normal operating expenditures at $25,000,000 a year and use the balance of its record revenues to fully service the provincial debt and pay relief costs.

The party's financial critic attacked Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, for bringing down a war budget without economies, actually increasing expenditure estimates by $500,000.

He suggested Mr. Hart take a leaf from the book of R. W. Mayhew, the Victoria M.P., who suggested that during wartime a new federal building for the city be deferred.

Mr. Anscomb said there was no use the province looking to Ottawa for help in wartime because the federal government would have enough trouble financing the war. For the same reason municipalities need not expect any relief from land taxation as a result of the Rowell Commission report.

"We might as well recognize," he said, "that this province will have to adjust its own economies in the future. The policy of running to Ottawa with all our grief is a thing of the past, and the sooner we realize it the better."

"It is the paramount duty of this government and any that may follow it to see that we live within our income, eliminate non-essentials and keep taxation at the lowest possible level consistent with a good business administration."

CUT COSTS $6,000,000
Mr. Anscomb insisted the treasury could pay normal expenses for $6,000,000 a year less than it was.

Instead of running $20,000,000 further into debt, as it had in the last six years, and increasing the sinking fund shortage by $11,000,000, it could pay for all unemployment relief out of current revenues and keep the funds up to requirements. There was no excuse for funding relief costs because there was no capital asset against the loan.

He criticized the provincial balance sheet as entirely false when it carried such items as the P.G.E. Railway at a value of $86,000,000, when the government would be glad to get rid of it for a quarter of the figure.

He disputed the minister's claim he had restored the province's credit, asserting that when B.C. was paying 3.75 per cent for its loans the town of Kelowna was getting money for 3.35 per cent and Woodstock, Ontario, for 2.99 per cent. He charged the minister with poor financing when he sold B.C. 3 per cent bonds to the sinking funds at par when B.C. bonds were selling on a 5 per cent basis on the open market.

Any financier knew that cheap money did not necessarily mean prosperity, he declared.

SINKING FUNDS
He said if Mr. Hart operated sinking funds for a private trust fund the same way he did the provincial funds he would soon find himself provided with room and board by the Attorney-General. He advocated independent commissions to administer all sinking funds.

He charged the government with failure to carry out its pledge of aid to municipalities and said it was time for them to forget about the Rowell Commission and really tackle the problem. Vancouver remained on the verge of bankruptcy and New Westminster was little better.

"The Finance Minister says it would involve a big increase in taxes," he said. "And he knows, as we all know, this government will never increase taxes so long as their revenues are at their present terrific height."

ATTACKS OIL
Attacking the government's oil drilling in the Peace River, he said the drilling

Second Battalion In Football Win

The Second Battalion of the Canadian Scottish took the measure of its sister battalion, the First, on Saturday when they met in a return soccer match at Central Park. The Seconds won 3 to 1. Both teams had looked forward to this meeting, as in their first start they battled to a 2 to 2 draw.

Rain before and during the game made the Central Park pitch greasy, but a good brand of soccer was played in spite of the difficulties.

Lance Corporal Robinson banged home the first goal for the Seconds five minutes after the start. Early in the second half, Lieutenant Hewlett drove home the second goal for the Second Battalion. McMillan, who played a good game for the Seconds goal, only let one slip past him. Before the game ended Hewlett scored again on a penalty kick to conclude the scoring.

Play has already opened in the Lower Vancouver Island Badminton League. The remainder of the first half schedule follows:

Card Matches For Week-end

Saturday and Sunday games will be played by teams in the Victoria and District Football league this week-end. Two games are list for Saturday, one Sunday.

In a two-way tie for third place with Garrison, Dave Stewart's Rangers will go up against the leading Victoria West aggregation in the feature Garrison Cup game on Saturday at Heywood Avenue with Robb as referee. The other Saturday game will bring together Victoria City and Saanich Thistles at Beacon Hill Park, with Dowds refereeing. City is bracketed in the second berth with Esquimalt. Thistles are in the cellar spot.

Sunday's game will see Esquimalt tackle Garrison at Bullen Park, with McMillan as referee. All kickoffs are set for 2.45.

At last night's meeting of the league plans were completed for "juvenile day" to be held here December 2, when Victoria's inter-city team will be playing on the mainland. A club selected from the United Services, which means the Navy and Army, will oppose a press eleven named by local sports writers. In addition to the exhibition game, five-a-side competitions for juveniles will be held. The program will start at 2, and full proceeds will go to assist junior and juvenile soccer.

Charlie Lewis was named manager of the press eleven. The United Services manager has not been selected yet.

Winless Club Will Tackle Chicago Hawks

The fascinating case of Eddie Shore's retirement plans versus the notions of the Boston hockey public seems to be coming to a head rapidly. Something of the future of the affair may be indicated tonight when Shore lines up with the Bruins in Boston again, contrary to original plans, against Chicago Black Hawks.

Without Shore, the world champion Bruins have lost their first two games of the National League season. If they win with him, it's going to be hard for Manager Art Ross to let Eddie go back to his job of supervising the Springfield team in the International-American League.

When Shore bought the Springfield club this year, he reached an agreement whereby he would play no road games for Boston during the schedule and no home games before December 15. He was to get $200 for each appearance with the Bruins.

Well, Shore will be in the line-up tonight when the world champions seek their first victory of the season.

REPLACES CRAWFORD

He has come back—voluntarily, Ross says—because of an injury to defenseman Jack Crawford. Whether he can go away so voluntarily is another matter.

Shore was a holdout at the start of last season and when he failed to appear for the first home contest the fans shouted "We want Shore," until even the band in Boston Garden was drowned out. Shore soon came back. And on the April night the Bruins won the Stanley Cup, the customers cried "We want Shore" until old Eddie came from the dressing-room to take bow after bow.

If Ross can find a way to make the people stop yelling "We want Shore" his problem will be solved. Perhaps Crawford's elbow injury will keep him out until December 15, when Shore would be back for home games anyway. But if the club goes into a dive on the road, the folks in the Hub won't be silent in their belief that Ross ought to induce Eddie to get back in for all the games.

The greatest player in the game claims he wants to get out of his active interest in it. The mere fact he offered to play tonight indicates the roar of "We want Shore" may have something more to do with the decision than the weariness in Eddie's bones.

Chicago can move ahead of Toronto into first place by winning, while Detroit can tie Toronto by spoiling the Americans' first appearance at their New York home.

Yankees Plan Few Changes

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

FIRST WEEK of campaigning in the National Hockey League produced some surprising results. Art Ross' Shoreless Boston Bruins, proud holders of the world professional championship, are down at the bottom of the standings with two straight defeats, one a crushing 5 to 0 setback at the hands of the Toronto Maple Leafs. Lester Patrick's highly-rated New York Rangers played three games without a victory, although they did manage to salvage two points by forcing a couple of draws.

Montreal Canadiens, biggest disappointment of last season's campaign, came up with a pair of smart victories, while Detroit Red Wings and Chicago Black Hawks grabbed off their share of points. Both failed to live up to pre-season expectations last year. Conny Smythe's Leafs, injected with smart-appearing young blood, displayed a lot of improvement and added punch in their game against Boston and the two engagements with the Rangers.

Ross may find out now just how much Shore meant to his Bruins. In the two games the club has played to date it has shown nothing like the dash that carried Boston to the Stanley Cup last spring. Another defeat or so and Mr. Ross will be offering the prairie wheat farmer half of Boston to return to his regular position on the defence. Shore, meanwhile, has got his Springfield Indians out in front in the International-American League.

Victoria Revellers wound up their regular league Canadian football schedule Saturday by dropping a tough game in Vancouver. The local squad will now engage in a sudden-death game in the playoffs. Irrespective of how the team makes out in the coming engagement it must be given credit on its showing in the regular league. Majority of the Victoria club was green material and started the season under a decided handicap. As the campaign progressed, the Revellers showed improvement and when another season rolls around the management of the club will have some experienced players to call upon. Coach George Deacon handled the Revellers well and has nothing to feel ashamed of for the showing his club made in the Big Four. Victorians appeared to take to the game this season, and no doubt will turn out in even larger numbers if this city can field a club that can win games.

Thursday night the basketballers will get together for a special general meeting of the local league. The session has been called at the wish of three clubs and main business will be recent negotiations between the league executive and the Victoria Sports Centre Limited, over the use of the latter's gym at the Willows. Meeting after meeting has been held and still the league cannot find its way clear to accept the terms offered by the sports centre, and up to date refuses to bill games there.

With the completion of recent alterations the Willows gym is no doubt the finest of its kind this city has ever boasted. It is a shame that the two groups cannot get together and put on basketball under ideal conditions. The High School gym offered limited enough accommodation as it was, but for senior men's clubs to perform at the Y.M.C.A. gym is pitiful. Under such conditions basketball will suffer. Fans are just not going to watch games where their comfort is sacrificed.

Saturday night's scheduled senior clash between the Dominos and Senators was not played but the latter have the satisfaction of taking two points from the Canadian champs for the first time. When the Dominos did not turn out to play, the league ordered the game defaulted, so, although the Senators have never beaten the Dominos, they at least have the satisfaction of being the division leaders to start the season.

NEW YORK (AP) — Although he'd like to pick up a player or two just in case his Yankees might be a trifle weak here and there, president Ed Barrow of the world champions is pretty well satisfied to let baseball go along as it is.

Returning from a vacation on Tom Yawkey's South Carolina plantation, Barrow said he isn't interested in getting Hank Greenberg from Detroit, in night baseball for the Yanks or other "fads," or in breaking up the Yankees.

"There's only one player in the American League in which we are interested, and I'm not sure we'll even try to get him," Barrow remarked. "The way I see it, the Yankees can win another pennant without making a single change. After that we may have to bolster a bit here and there. I know no other club has ever won five straight but I think this one can without any aid. I may be wrong, but I'm willing to take the chance."

"Outside of a couple of young pitchers, you can say I'm almost tempted to go along as it is."

Dog Show To Be Held December 2

Plans are well under way for the benefit dog show to be staged by the Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association on Saturday, December 2, in the Crystal Garden. Entire proceeds from the show will go to the Red Cross Society.

Cliff Lumb of Vancouver will officiate as judge of all breeds. Lumb has been breeding and exhibiting dogs for some years and is well qualified to act in the capacity of judge. He has judged many shows on the mainland.

The highlight of the show will be the novelty class, in which it is hoped there will be many national advertising costumes seen. For those who would like to enter this class, but have not got a dog of their own, the association will endeavor to provide a canine for them at the show. A nice prize has been donated for this class.

Miss Sylvia Cunningham has donated a novel prize for the best-conditioned dog in the show. This prize can only be competed for by persons owning one or two dogs. Breeders and kennel owners are not eligible for this class.

Good prizes have also been donated for the best in the following classes: Toy, terrier, nonsporting, working, hound, sporting, novice, Canadian bred, and also best in show. There will also be a veteran's class for dogs over the age of seven years. Further information will be supplied by Mrs. C. Bloomfield, secretary, at G 4788.

TOURNEY LEADER

Posting a net score of 77, Miss Isabel Jarvis led the field at the end of the first round in the annual Wilkerson Cup competition at the Gorge Vale Golf Club over the week-end. Miss Jarvis recently retained her club championship.

Lions Take Opener

VANCOUVER (CP) — Jean Pusie and the Vancouver Lions got off to a flying start in the 1939-40 Pacific Coast Hockey League opener last night when they combined efforts to hand Portland Buckaroos a 4 to 2 licking.

Pusie, colorful French-Canadian defenceman who saw action with St. Louis Flyers last year, broke a 2 to 2 deadlock in the last period with a couple of tallies to send the defending Coast League champions home empty-handed.

The battle was rough and some 4,000 fans found in the latest edition of the Lions a real threat to Bobby Rowe's Bucks, who outdistanced all the other coast teams in the league race last winter.

Lude Palm of Lions opened the scoring 11 minutes after the start on a pass from Mory Rimstad and Bucks got the next goal in the second period on a Lion boner. Rimstad accidentally kicked the rubber into his own net and the puck was awarded to the last Buck to touch the puck, Eddie Ouellette.

Five minutes after the third period started, Aubrey Webster netted Portland's second goal but Lions took command less than a minute later when Rimstad shot the first of three consecutive goals. Pusie accounted for the other two.

SUMMARY

First period — 1, Vancouver, Palm (Rimstad), 11.04. Penalties: Pusie, Ouellette (2), Adams.

Second period — 2, Portland, Ouellette, 16.15.

Third period — 3, Portland; Webster (Holmes), 5.21; 4, Vancouver, Rimstad, 5.59; 5, Vancouver, Pusie (Lennon), 6.22; 6, Vancouver, Pusie, 11.20. Penalties: Hutton (2).

CHICAGO (AP) — The Professional Golfers' Association selected a Ryder Cup team yesterday, although the team's biennial competition with the British team has been canceled by the war.

Pompoon Is Dead

HYDE, Md. (AP) — Pompoon, five-year-old thoroughbred racehorse owned by J. H. Loucheim, died today at the Three Cousins' Stock Farm in Long Green Valley. Pompoon broke down in New York last summer and it was understood he had been booked for stud next year.

The son of Pompey-Conagh was the two-year-old champion in 1936, but in his three-year-old campaign he played second fiddle to Samuel Riddle's War Admiral, who beat him in the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness.

Collegians to Meet Wanderers

Bob Wallace's Victoria College intermediate ruggers will be out seeking revenge Saturday when they again stack up against Coach Mickey Murray's Oak Bay Wanderers at Victoria High School grounds.

Murray's team, a high school team, won an 11 to 0 victory over the collegians last week-end in the opening minor league battle of the season.

Injuries to three of its members upset the smooth function of the college team in the first start, but the team will be at full strength for this struggle and there is confidence in the Craigdarroch institution's camp that they have what it takes to turn back the heavier Oak Bay unit.

At last night's meeting of the Victoria Rugby Union, it was decided the time was not yet ripe to start senior teams on their silverware race, so a friendly game was arranged for Saturday.

This game will see a navy team taking on Bob McInnes' Civilians, who put up a great fight against the army on Armistice Day, only to drop a 14 to 8 decision.

In order not to conflict with the Revellers vs. K. of C. Canadian rugby game at Athletic Park on Saturday, Union officials arranged for the senior game to be played at the navy grounds.

Both games start at 3.

MONTREAL MAKES PLANS FOR GAMES

MONTREAL (CP) — Despite the war, Montreal still is persevering with plans to hold the British Empire Games here in 1942. Leon Trepanier, general manager of the Montreal tercentenary commission, told members of the tercentenary sport committee at a meeting here last night.

While admitting that the games might not be held due to the war, Trepanier said now was the time to prepare for them, just in case they are held. Montreal, he added, had "practically obtained" the games for conjunction with the city's tercentenary celebration that year.

"The final move is to produce a sufficient financial guarantee at a meeting of the Canadian British Empire Games Association in Hamilton toward the end of the month," he said. "And I am in a position to say that Montreal is able to furnish that guarantee."

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The Pacific Coast Baseball League re-elected President W. C. Tuttle for a three-year term at its annual meeting here yesterday. The choice was unanimous.

Moroz Captures Scoring Title

TORONTO (CP) — It was no surprise at all to find Bernie Moroz had won the east's individual scoring championship when the Canadian Press finished compiling football statistics yesterday. The Sarnia halfback, with a total of 36, was always in front and didn't need the one point he picked up Saturday when the regular schedules finished.

In second place with 26 came Tommy Burns of Montreal Westmounts, another Ontario Rugby Football Union club, while Buster (Red) Storey of Toronto Argos was third with 25. Burns and Storey led the touchdown scorers with five each.

Moroz didn't collect one point last year when Hugh (Bummer) Stirling also of Sarnia won the honors with a total of 42. His great kicking from placement stood him in good stead this season, however. He converted nine of his team's 10 touchdowns and kicked two field goals besides.

Clem Faust, the intercollegiate winner with University of Western Ontario and Eddie Thompson of Balmy Beach tied for fourth spot with 23 each.

X-ray Machines Make Shadow Pictures

X-rays are extremely short electric waves. They can pass in front of a person's eyes without being seen.

A common type of X-ray travels by waves of which 1,000,000,000 "end-to-end" would spread out to a distance of one inch. Other X-ray waves are even shorter than that!

X-ray of an alarm clock

X-ray pictures are not made in just the same way as a common photograph. The X-ray picture is a shadow. The rays go through the less solid objects and reach the film. The more solid objects hold back the rays, making a shadow on the film.

The parts of a clock are not equally solid. That is why it is possible for an X-ray picture to show some of the inner parts of a clock.

X-rays go through the flesh of a man or an animal very easily. They also make a quick passage through wood, leather, paper and the like.

It is simple for X-rays to pass through some metals (such as aluminum) but hard to go through other metals. Iron is one of the metals which tend to hold back X-rays. Yet scientists have been able to send extra-short X-rays through sheets of iron.

To make X-ray photographs through certain metals, there must be an exposure of minutes, or even hours. To make pictures through flesh, on the other hand, the machine is turned on, only a second or two.

There is no danger to a person who is X-rayed for a short time. On the other hand, there must be danger if he were exposed to X-ray for two minutes.

Men who worked with X-rays found that, over years ago, Old types of X-ray machines did their work, but those who handled them were not properly guarded. As a result, some X-ray workers suffered from cancer and died.

Modern X-ray machines are built with great care. The rays are sent to one special place, and lead is used to shield the persons who run them.

Oddly enough, it has been found that X-rays are helpful in treating some kinds of cancer. Used by doctors, or by operators following the orders of doctors, they are given credit for having saved hundreds of lives.

HOROSCOPE

Wednesday, November 15

This is an uncertain day in planetary government. Good and adverse aspects are active. The morning is auspicious for persons in authority and should benefit naval and army officers, heads of government departments and all executives. Under this sway those who possess wealth should be wise in bestowing benefactions.

This is a fairly promising configuration for women who will be useful serving under the direction of men. Restlessness among young folk will disturb parents, but the older generation should realize that war may reach us after a period of conflict in Europe.

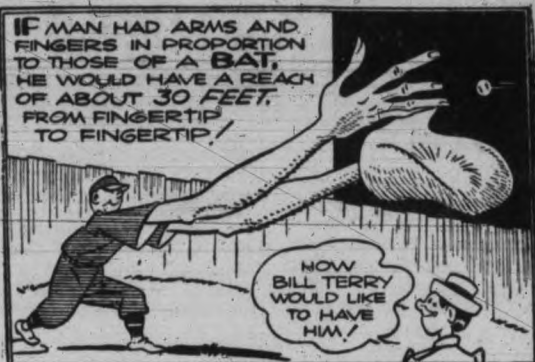

Buying and selling will be greatly stimulated at this time. Seats of learning which attract young students will be the scene in the next few weeks of prosperity and good cheer. Despite the first effects of war in Europe, the next two months will be memorable for the joys that come to young and old.

Changes of front by leading statesmen regarding foreign policy will be apparent. Events of amazing treachery in Europe will have strong effect. National leaders will gain greatly in general confidence as they demonstrate ability to meet extraordinary problems that menace the security of civilization. Although the seers foretell United States entrance into the conflict, if hostilities continue beyond a certain date, there is promise of effective intervention.

Secrecy will cloak Germany's diplomatic moves. The Soviet government will mask its plans, hiding large ambitions from Hitler. Italy will follow a shrewd diplomatic line of high order which may be attributed to the Vatican. Again the danger of an armed peace that may be of grave concern to the Allies is forecast. Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a man 30 years of age, with a wife who is 26. We have two children. She has put a question up to me which I do not know how to answer. She says that she wants her freedom to go where and when and with whom she pleases. A very good friend of mine who also is married and has two children, has asked my wife to go out with him and tells her what nice times they could have together. I love my wife and I am afraid that if she runs around with him it may mean the breaking up of our home. I don't think it fair to the children. Please advise me what to do.

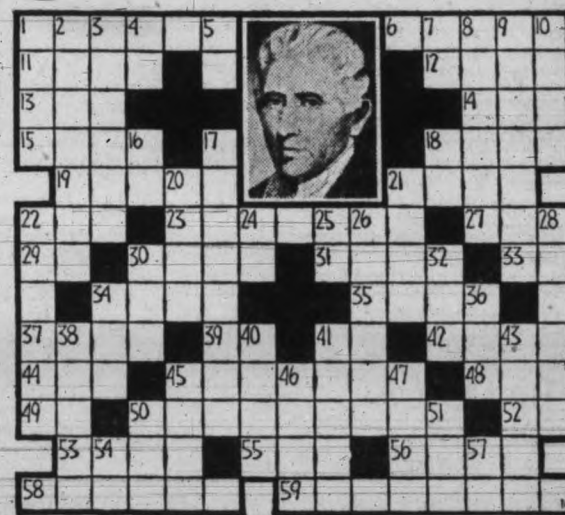

ANSWER: When a wife wants to step out with another man, she has already left her husband spiritually and there is probably no use in his trying to hold her body. Her feet will follow her flighty heart down the primrose path.

Evidently your wife is fed up on domesticity. She is tired of you, tired of the children and she wants to have her fling. But it cannot be done without her losing her own good name and wrecking the family.

You cannot consent to her proposition, which is an utterly selfish one on her part, for she proposes to run around with other men, yet have the protection of your name, your support and the shelter of your home. She demands the right to have what she considers a good time, to be unfettered even by the children, while you occupy the unenviable position of the complacent husband and stay at home nights with the youngsters.

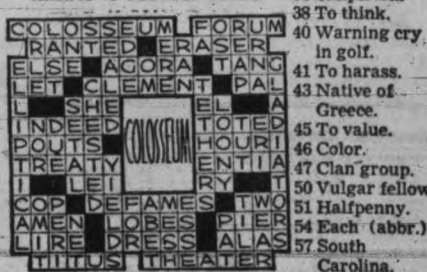

DOROTHY DIX.

This association has as its primary function the advancement of standards of police administration through the co-operation of officials in this country and abroad. ## City Hall Topics

Extra charges on outstanding current taxes in the city will rise to 3 per cent on Thursday with the application of the third penalty imposed on delayed payments. On December 2 the penalty will be doubled with the addition of another 3 per cent.

Sale of one more property to a private buyer today raised the number of parcels that have been auctioned in the city's annual tax sale to 19 to date. Total value of sales so far amounts to $4,602.

A permit for a $3,500 eight-room duplex at 403-405 Quebec Street was issued by the city building inspector's department today. The construction also calls for two garages.

moving picture projectionists and small theatre operators regarding the number of men to be employed in projection rooms. It proposes that in theatres with more than 450 seats and operating over 400 a week, two men must be employed. In smaller theatres only one man would be required if the fire marshal was satisfied the public were protected from fire. The fire marshal's decision, however, could be appealed to the government.

Long Terms for Beating Aged Man

John J. Henderson was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary by Magistrate Hall in the City Police Court this morning when he was convicted on a charge of breaking and entering and theft. Frank Ford, who pleaded guilty to the same charge, was sentenced to three years, the court taking into consideration the fact he had no previous record and did not appear by the evidence to have been involved to the extent as Henderson.

Henderson and Ford were arrested by city police two hours after the brutal beating of 81-year-old William Shinnick, ex-steepjack, who fled from his apartment by way of the fire escape, barefooted after he was beaten and robbed of $8.

In passing judgment Magistrate Hall said Henderson's alibi had failed in almost every instance where it had been tested under the cross-examination of C. L. Harrison, prosecutor.

"Your explanation of the blood on your clothing could hardly be taken seriously," the court added, referring to Henderson's evidence that blood on his wrists and clothes had come from either a hypodermic injection he had given a friend or a cut on Ford's hand which he had bandaged.

"You not only committed the serious crime of breaking and entering but I am satisfied you and your associate committed a brutal attack and so scared him that he climbed down the fire escape. As I saw him in court yesterday I was amazed to see he made the escape he did."

GYROS HEAR OF CZECHOSLOVAKIA

"We were not committed to take action during the Munich crisis at the time that Germany began to bring pressure to bear on Czechoslovakia, but since the speeches of Chamberlain and Churchill during the present war, we are in honor bound to see that the Czechoslovakian state is re-established," said Dr. Alton Peables, chairman of the B.C. Healers Insurance Committee, a member of the Gyro Club.

Dr. Peables spoke on personal experiences and views of Czechoslovakia after an extensive tour of that country.

The speaker told of the many interesting sights that he saw during his stay in and around Prague. He remarked on the complete thoughtfulness and hospitality of the Czech people, who tried their best to make his stay in their country as pleasant as possible.

At the time of Dr. Peables' visit, Czechoslovakia had an area of about 50,000 square miles and a total population of 15,000,000. The Germans numbered 3,000,000 and although they were in the minority, they were not treated as charged by Germany. Dr. Peables said that these German minorities were treated better than any other such group in the world and the Czechs tried to co-operate with Germany in the matter of settling the German-manufactured dispute.

"The Czechs are one of the most democratic peoples in the world and they allowed the German minorities complete liberty," Dr. Peables said.

The speaker gave a description of the castle of Archduke Ferdinand who was assassinated just before the Great War. He remarked on the many historical articles in the castle, which were gathered by the Archduke before his death.

Dr. Peables told of the beautiful cathedral in Prague and of the impressiveness of the many spired buildings of the city.

PAINT MAY JUMP 50 PER CENT

A warning that paint prices might jump 50 per cent soon was issued today by Carl Pendray, president of the British America Paint Company. The war had made it necessary to secure raw materials for paint manufacture from different sources at much higher rates, he said.

Mr. Pendray told the Times that before the war the local company was buying the greatest portion of its raw materials from the Old Country. Now it was impossible to get materials from that source.

The raw materials could be obtained in the United States, but duties are higher, rate of exchange is higher and freight rates are higher than water rates, Mr. Pendray said. These three items combined would boost the cost of raw materials about 50 per cent.

Tracts On Peace Held From House

An attempt to circulate a tract, "Government and Peace," published by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, Inc., of Brooklyn, N.Y., and Toronto, among members of the Legislature was halted yesterday.

A woman appeared at the main entrance to the assembly hall, gave the tracts to a page and asked him to circulate them. The page took them to the sergeant-at-arms, who confiscated them. The woman returned later, asked if they had been distributed and when told no, asked for the tracts. The deputy sergeant-at-arms went to the entrance to see her but found she had disappeared.

"As much soda as will lie upon a shilling," was called for in an old-time English recipe for "parkins," or crisp cookies.

$35,673 Pledged In Joint Drive

Of the $100,000 objective of the joint Community Chest-Red Cross drive for funds in Victoria which started yesterday for a week's duration, $35,673.73 has already been pledged, Frank Paulding, campaign director, announced this morning.

This amount is $1,262.04 more than was subscribed at the end of the first day of last year's campaign.

The total amount subscribed yesterday was $11,997.73, the remaining $23,676 pledged in preliminary subscriptions.

Six hundred canvassers in five divisions are taking part in the drive.

"Each canvasser is going out in his respective division. Whatever happens, there will be few people, by the time the campaign is over, who will not have had an opportunity to give, if they are able," Mr. Paulding said.

Up to the present time the appeal for 25 per cent increase in subscriptions so that the Red Cross will have an adequate share of the proceeds, has been maintained, Mr. Paulding continued.

The first $65,000 collected will go to the Community Chest. Everything beyond that will go to the Red Cross. All organizations depending on the Community Chest had cut their expenditures to a minimum. It was pointed out that the joint drive will cut down expenses and save time, thereby saving the public additional subscriptions.

In North America the advantages of combining all charities under one fund were now generally recognized. Four hundred and seventy-five cities had community chests, representing 500,000 volunteer workers and approximately $100,000,000.

Each authorized canvasser in the local campaign carries a worker's kit, and the official pledge card is the principal badge of the authorized collector.

At noon today Hubert Letaby and Alex. Hall of the Canadian National Institute of the Blind, spoke to employees of the Cameron Lumber Co., on the need of funds by the Community Chest and Red Cross. Mayor Andrew McGavin delivered a radio address last evening endorsing the campaign.

Headquarters of the campaign are in the Union Building, corner View and Government Streets.

Parking Meters Here Unopposed

Victoria will get the power to install parking meters in the city streets, it was indicated this morning when little objection was raised to the plan before the municipal committee of the Legislature.

Mayor Andrew McGavin and City Solicitor Forrest Shaw appeared before the committee. Only question raised was by Mrs. H. D. Smith, Liberal, Burrard, who asked if Victorians knew the proposal was in mind. She was informed it had been discussed publicly for months.

A protest from J. A. Paton, Conservative, Point Grey, against too heavy restrictions on small business was voiced in connection with a municipal proposal for the licensing of hawkers and peddlers.

The committee rejected the proposed amendment after E. H. Bridgman, deputy minister of municipal affairs, explained the present act gave municipalities sufficient control over this class of trade.

Mr. Paton said restrictions were so bad now that when a farmer wanted to sell a few loads of wood from his property he had to pay two licenses.

"That's just the sort of thing we're trying to curb by refusing this amendment," said R. R. Burns, committee chairman.

MAGISTRATE'S COURSE PROTESTED

VANCOUVER (CP)—John Stanton, counsel for six men charged under the British Columbia Industrial Arbitration and Conciliation Act, today said he had protested to Attorney-General G. S. Wismer against the conduct of Stipendiary Magistrate G. S. Sumner of Goldbridge, B.C., for proceeding with the charges pending hearing of a prohibition application in the B.C. Supreme Court here.

Mr. Justice A. J. Fisher yesterday granted the application prohibiting the magistrate from proceeding further with the charges. At Goldbridge, Stipendiary Magistrate Sumner yesterday convicted two of the men, executives of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, on charges of calling a strike at Pioneer Mines Limited before arbitration and fined them each

'DOUBLE CRIME IN MAGINOT LINE'

A novel background and a sensational theme are outstanding features of "Double Crime in the Maginot Line," showing today at the Dominion Theatre.

The film opens actually inside the Maginot Line. This underground French fortress is one of the scientific and military wonders of the present day, fully equipped to face the strain of a colossal attack.

Made with the co-operation of the French authorities it tells a dramatic fictional story of a murder committed underground, of the discovery that its perpetrator is a German master spy masquerading as a French officer; and of the battle of wits which ensues.

'Glamour Girls' at
Atlas Tomorrow

S. Sylvan Simon, who directed
 "These Glamour Girls" with Lew Ayres and Lana Turner, opening tomorrow at the Atlas Theatre, has probably directed more women per picture than any director in Hollywood.

Beginning with "Road to Reno," in which women were outstanding, Simon made "Spring Madness," a story set in a girls' college. He followed this with "Four Girls in White," a story of the nursing profession. Then came "These Glamour Girls" and a cast that includes such beauties
 as Lana Turner, Jane Bryan, Anita Louise, Marsha Hunt, Ann Rutherford and Mary Beth Hughes.

B.C. Legislature

Women Discuss
Social Services

Two sides of social service problems in British Columbia were discussed in the Legislature yesterday by women speakers, Mrs. H. D. Smith, Liberal, Burrard, and Mrs. Laura Jamieson, C.C.F., Vancouver Centre.

Mrs. Smith described what had been done through the Trades Schools Act in "eliminating the racket from trade schools, in controlling correspondence schools and in forwarding the apprenticeship system."

Through these, and such things as the Dominion-provincial training course, both in industrial and other practical vocations governments were really doing something to help youths fit themselves for life, she said.

Mrs. Smith believed industrial occupation could be more closely linked with the education system.
 A university was provided for those who wished to train for professional careers, but little as yet for those who wanted industrial training, she said.

She had particular praise for the household service class started by the Y.W.C.A. and now taken over and enlarged by the labor department.

There was 100 per cent placement in jobs for girls who took the training, with a waiting list,
 she said, expressing the belief it would lead to the establishment of proper standards for domestics, better working hours and wages.

Mrs. Jamieson spoke, she said,
 on behalf of 57,000 women homemakers of the province who were living on a substandard, either on relief, on the verge of relief, or having very low incomes. Such things as refrigerators, automobiles, and other modern inventions might just as well have never been produced, as far as they were concerned.

She said, while most of these women realized that fundamental changes in the economic system were needed for a permanent solution, there were certain changes that would ameliorate their condition.

Particularly she wanted to see a low-rental housing scheme started, like every other civilized country but Canada is doing.
 Improvement of social services along many lines could be carried out to help them. Among other things, she suggested a domestic relations court.

Alfred Hitchcock, director of the Paramount picture, "Jamaica Inn," which is now at the Capitol Theatre, has often been called the "Edgar Allen Poe of the movies." Hitchcock's innovations in camera technique and storytelling have done much to lift the type of mystery tale often referred to as a "whodunit" into the first-rank entertainment list.

Three previous pictures by the same director have caused much comment. They were "The 39 Steps," "Secret Agent" and "The Lady Vanishes."

OAK BAY THEATRE
 James Cagney, who once as-

CADET THEATRE

 and Bette Davis have appeared together. They call it their "lucky seventh." Their last previous picture was "Jezebel" for which Miss Davis received the Academy Award in 1938.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

 Summerville, Bill Robinson, the Raymond Scott Quintette, Alan

PLAZA THEATRE
 "The Man in the Iron Mask" at the Plaza Theatre, is a dramatic and baffling story from the time of Louis XIV of France, when a mysterious man is known to have been locked in the Bastille, his head encased in a permanent mask, on personal order of the king. The whole affair was clothed in the deepest secrecy, and the identity of "The Man in the Iron Mask," as well as the reasons for his strange incarceration, are, even to this day, among the classic mysteries of history.

EXISTING AIRPORTS TRAINING NUCLEUS

OTTAWA (CP) — Landing fields constructed for Trans-Canada Airlines will form the nucleus of a vast system of flying facilities necessary for the Empire air force training scheme now in course of creation in Canada, it was announced officially last night.

These modern airports, established at key positions from coast to coast, will be available for use at once pending completion of new fields needed when the training scheme is in full operation.

Experts from Great Britain, New Zealand and Australia are meeting constantly with Canadian officials here working out details of the scheme to provide advanced training for airmen of the four commonwealth nations up to a possible 25,000 a year.

Reconnaissance and surveying parties have been a work napping points at which additional fields will be established. They hope to have selection complete in time for rushing construction work in the early spring.

In some instances the work on new airports will be started this fall and as much as possible completed during the winter. It is believed at least 25 new fields will be required.

Primarily responsibility for establishing these facilities rests with the Dominion Government. Through arrangement between Defence Minister Norman Rogers and Transport Minister C. D. Howe the air services branch of the Transport Department will be charged with selection, survey and construction of all airports required.

Reconnaissance and survey parties are now in the field headed by men with long experience in this work in the Maritime provinces, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

QUEEN MARY NOT ARMED FOR COMBAT

NEW YORK (CP) — A charge by German papers that the British luxury liner Queen Mary is armed for combat was denied here today by an official of the Cunard White Star Line, operators of the vessel. He said the ship did not carry guns either on her deck or in her holds, and added:

"We have the right to arm her (for defensive purposes) but she is not moving."

The Queen Mary has been moored at a New York pier since the day after war was declared. Under a camouflage coating of mud-grey paint, she appears anything but the queen of the seas that she is.

BERLIN (AP) — Berlin newspapers today published lists of British and French passenger ships and freighters which they claimed have been armed against submarines. Included in the list was the Queen Mary, which has been tied up in New York harbor since the beginning of the war.

Twenty-nine British ships and five French were listed, including the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia; also listed were the Mauretania, the Georgic and the Aquitania.

The general comment was that a German submarine commander would be foolhardy to expose himself to destruction. Foreign readers of the newspaper lists drew the conclusion the Germans implied that henceforth armed merchantmen would be subject to submarine attacks without warning.

Transport Controller

OTTAWA (CP) — Duties of the government's transport controller, whose appointment was provided for by Order in Council, will be confined to the arrangement of priorities and avoidance of traffic congestion, Hon. C. D. Howe, Transport Minister, said today.

The minister said a second order would be passed, probably today, clarifying the objectives of the government in this respect.

Mr. Howe said the government hoped to obtain the services of T. C. Lockwood of the Robert Ford Shipping Company, Montreal, as transport controller.

Purpose of the government is to guard against unnecessary transport tie-ups and to provide facilities whereby priority in movement of essential commodities may be efficiently arranged, the minister said.

Pickets Delay Ship at Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) — Longshoremen refused to load the Pacific Northwest Orient Line's steamship Collingsworth today when confronted by pickets from the Masters, Mates and Pilots' Association.

The pickets appeared yesterday to protest the hiring of east coast officers on the vessel and the unlicensed personnel immediately left ship.

The vessel, half loaded, was to take on additional cargo at Tacoma before leaving November 20 for the Orient.

Around the Docks

LUMBER ACTIVITY IS RENEWED HERE

Renewed activity was seen at the Canadian National docks in the outer harbor today when further shipments of Vancouver Island lumber began to move for export overseas.

Upwards of a million feet started to go overseas a vessel this morning. Other bottoms are due to clear up the lumber stacked and on cars at the assembly plant. Carloads of lumber from island mills are daily being discharged here by ferry.

Controlled tonnage is now being routed to British Columbia, and with ships available the indications are that the lumber movement from this coast will be active in the future.

To Resume Next Week

It will be another week before the C.P.R. steamer Princess Adelaide is ready to resume in the northern B.C. coast service.

The vessel is still in drydock at Esquimalt, where stern and rudder damage, caused by grounding off the northeast Vancouver Island coast, is being repaired by Yarrows Ltd.

It was announced at the offices of the B.C. Coast Service this morning that the Princess Adelaide will be recommissioned on Wednesday, November 22, sailing from Vancouver on the evening of that date for Prince Rupert.

The Princess Louise, which is pinch-hitting for her, will then be withdrawn and laid up at this port.

Hikawa Full Ship

When the N.Y.K. liner Hikawa Maru sails on her outward voyage to Japan, November 19, she will have a capacity list of passengers and a full cargo of freight, according to local agents of the line. The list is made up mostly of business men, both Occidental and Oriental, with many Japanese and their families returning to their homeland across the Pacific. One Japanese is booked by the motorship from Victoria, the majority of the bookings being from Seattle and Vancouver.

The cargo will include a large consignment of pulp, part of the present large movement of this commodity to Japan.

Next vessel of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha to arrive here, inbound from Japan, is the Hikawa Maru, scheduled to arrive November 22.

Here Last December

The 5,173-ton German freighter Annemose Esberger, which with the 6,103-ton Else Esberger, is reported to have got away from the Japanese port of Nagasaki, is known in the Victoria trade, having loaded cargo at the Canadian National docks here last December 23.

The two German ships are said to have twice previously left Nagasaki, only to return on being spotted by scouting warships.

OPEN CAMPS FOR BEACHED SEAMEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The coastguard today placed all of its maritime training facilities and a new 1,000-man camp at the disposal of United States sailors beached by the neutrality law.

Rear-Admiral R. R. Waesche, coastguard commandant, ordered training schools at New York, New London, Conn., and Alameda, Calif., not to enroll any more men for training unless they were seamen who lost their jobs when the neutrality law stopped American shipping to the war zone.

He also notified officials in Boston to proceed "immediately" to set up a new training station at Gallipoli Island in Boston Harbor with accommodations for 1,000 additional recruits.

While in the training schools, the sailors will receive food, shelter, clothing, transportation and at least $36 in cash a month.

Britain's Crack Train Sidelined by War

BALTIMORE (AP) — The war appears to have sidetracked Great Britain's crack train, the "Coronation Scot," 3,000 miles from home.

The luxurious train, which began a 3,100-mile tour here before going to the New York World's Fair, has returned and may remain in Baltimore indefinitely.

Shipping circles said the steamer Belpama, which brought the "Scot" across the Atlantic, was busy elsewhere and expressed belief other locomotive-carrying vessels were too occupied with war duties for Great Britain to take the train home.

The "Scot" is being dismantled and stored at the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's Mount Clare shops.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP) — Little change was registered by wheat futures prices after an irregularly dull session on Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Traders showed only a minor interest in proceedings and quotations finished 1/2 higher to 1/2 cent lower, November and December at 70 1/2, May 75 1/2 and July 76 1/2.

No foreign sales of Canadian wheat were reported and exporters showed little interest in the pit. Mills made light purchases, while November and December wheat were given fair support at times as buyers displayed an interest in nearby wheat.

Milling interests and exporters purchased substantial quantities of the top northern grades of cash wheat. In the coarse grain pit mills took some oats while maltsters bought a little barley.
